SPECTRUM

Dearest Jennifer-

Where do I begin on this one?! Seems like yesterday we were the "Three Stooges." Now we're just two crazy girls.. I love it! It would be nice if we were graduating, but like I keep saying, "Don't let it get to ya'." You know something? Somehow even the bad times had their way of turning to good times. (Does that make sense?) It sounds pretty crazy, but its true. It wouldn't have been possible without you.

I have the best time ever in Alaska. I hope we do everything possible this summer, making the best of them 'cause when the fall comes it school time again. I'm starting to feel at home at Freemont! hahaha

Good luck to you in the many years to come. I want to be right there with you.

Always here,

Kimberley

Everyday we are exposed to a spectrum of activities, people and emotions. As we work toward our goals, our spectrum broadens and changes. New friends are made and old ones are lost in our struggle to possess more. New games are discovered and old ones forgotten. As teenagers, feelings of adulthood come alive while at the same time feelings of childhood linger. Our spectrum in this year will be distinct from that of any other year for as our world changes so does our spectrum.

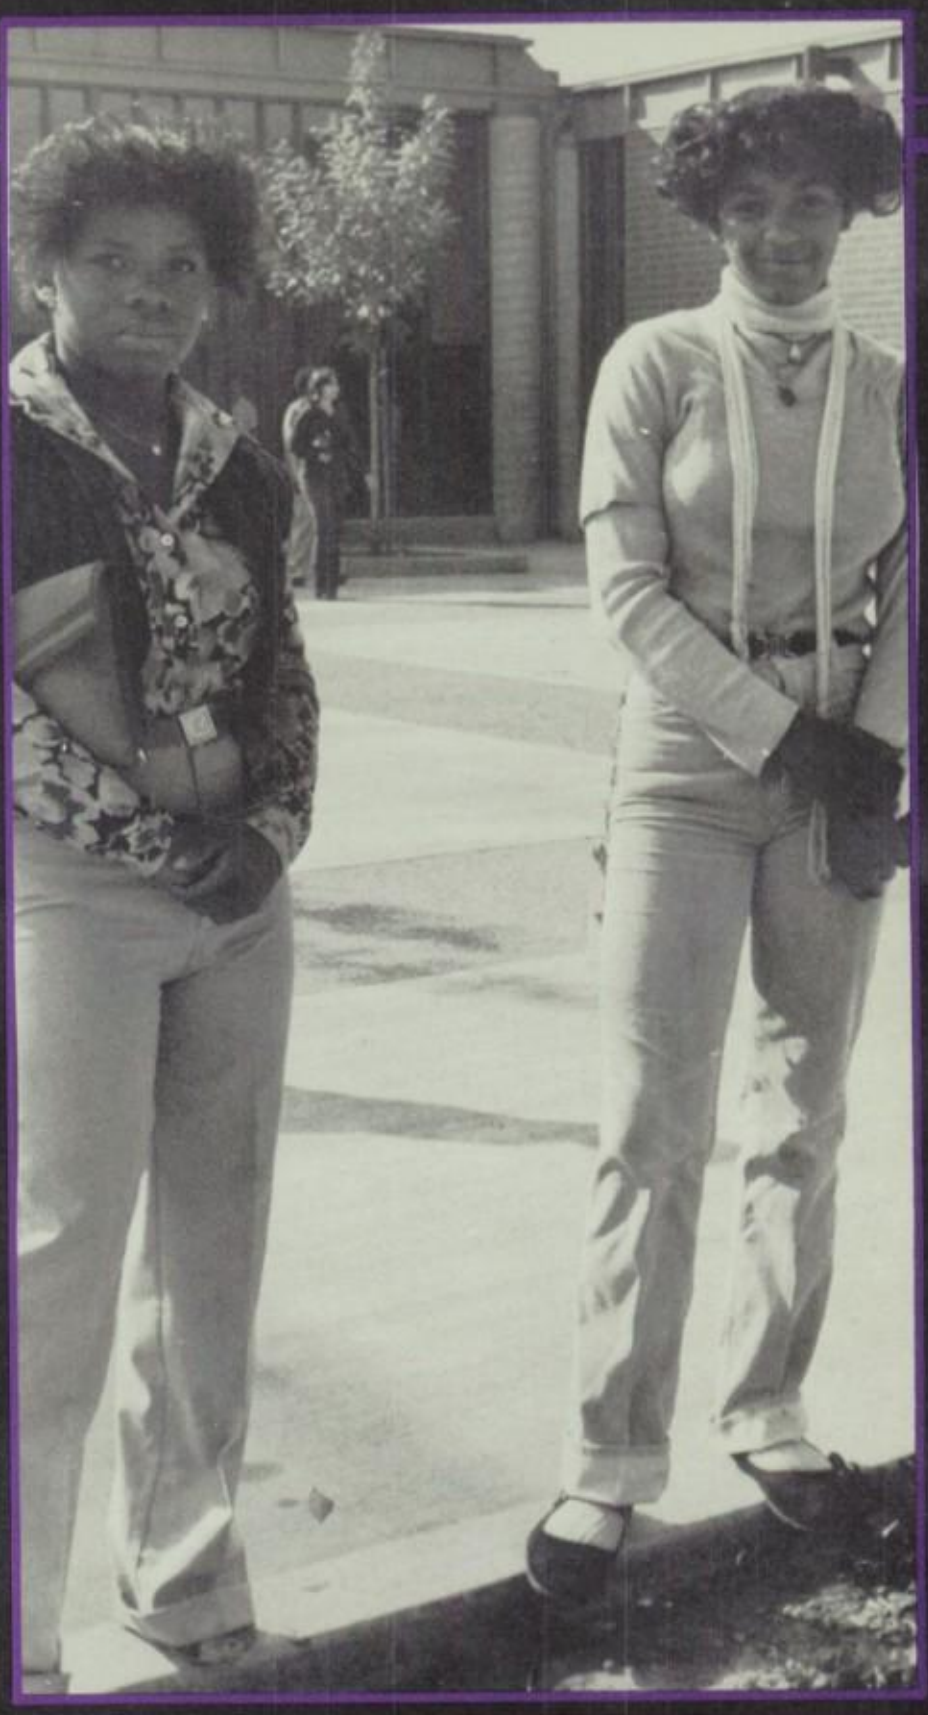
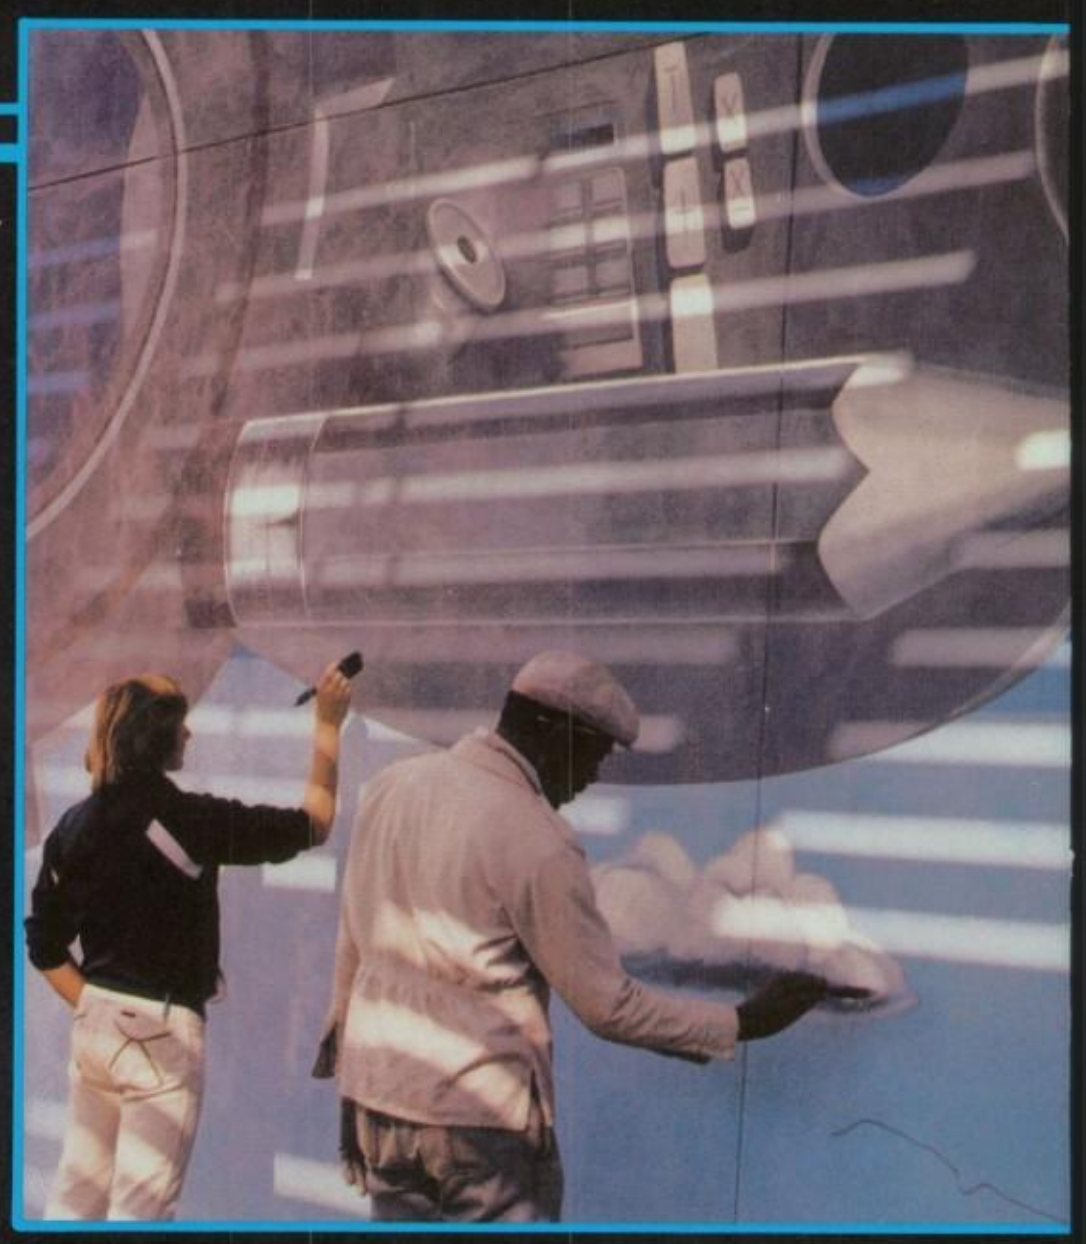
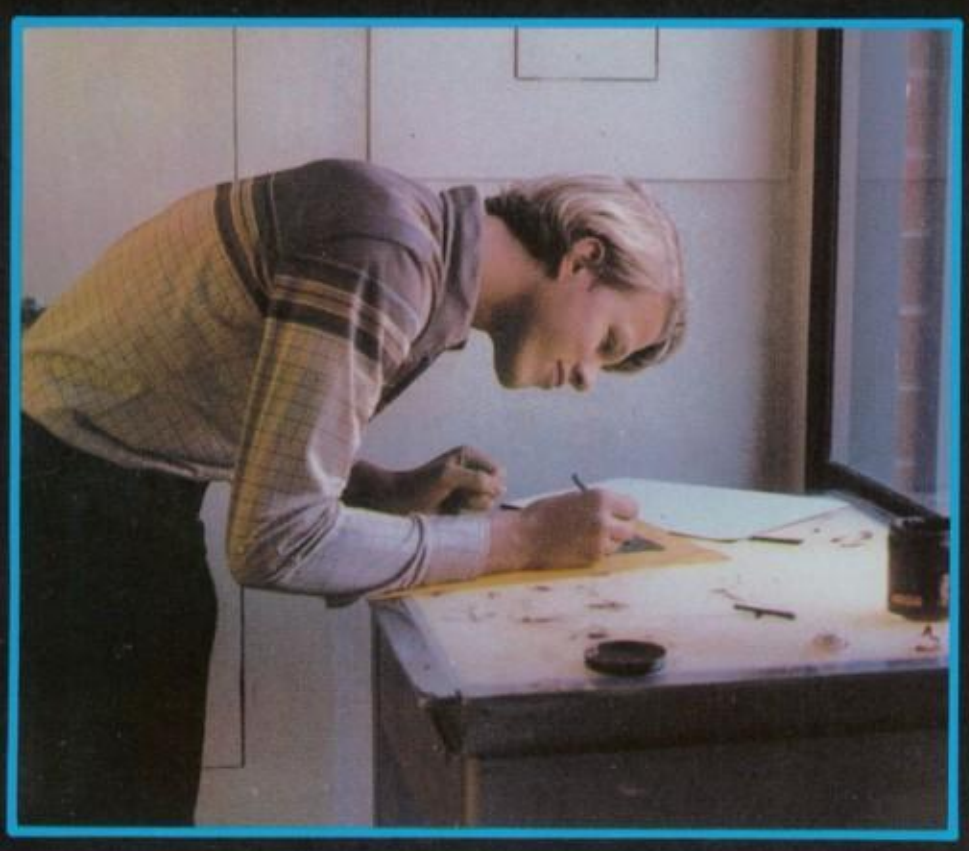
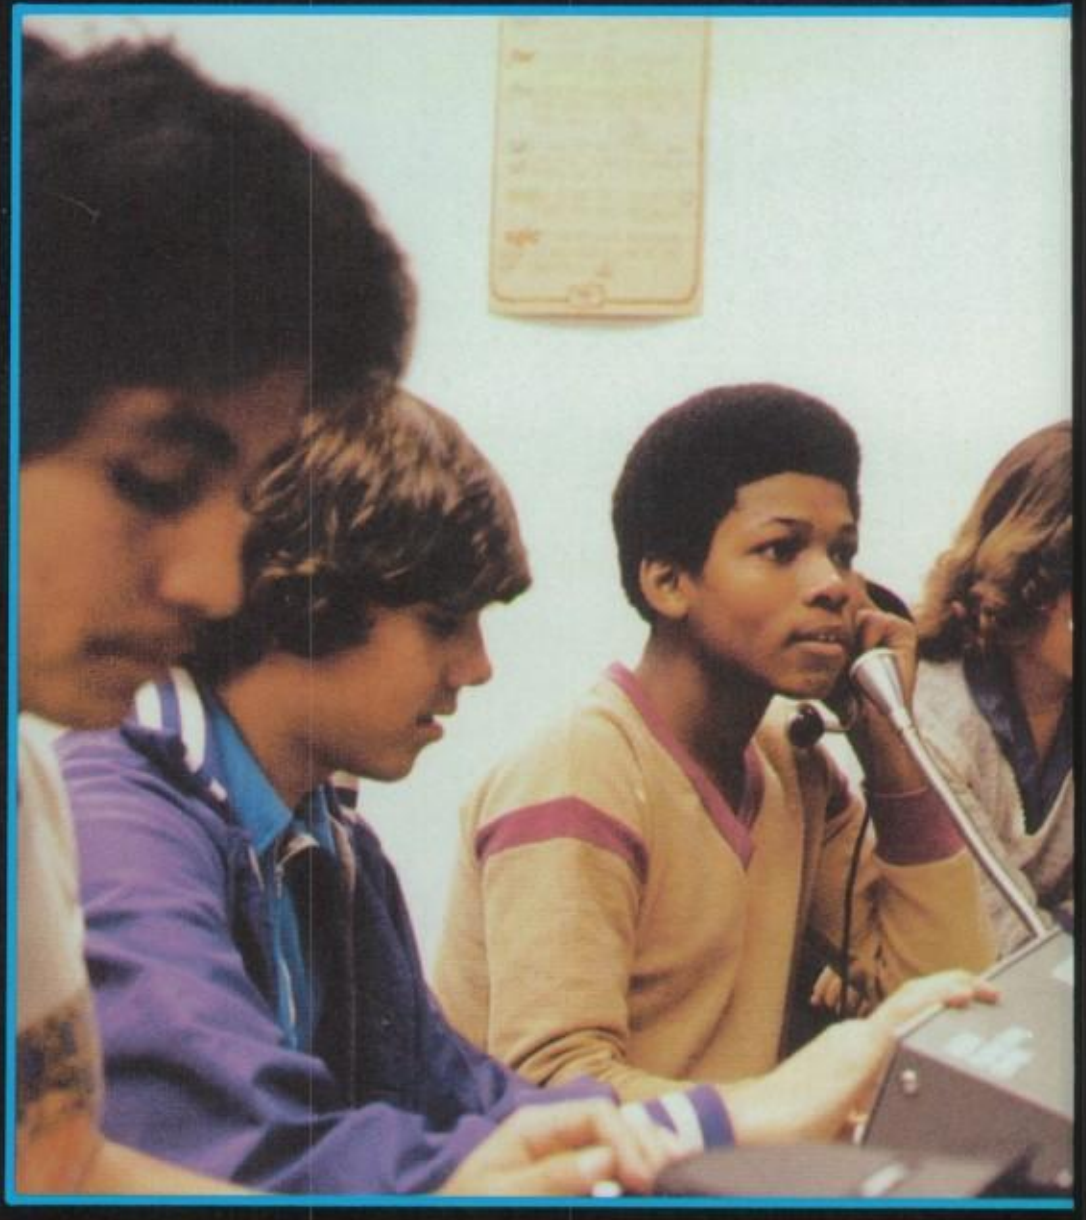
A decade ago Sacramento High School students faced an uncertain school year with the fear of racial unrest running rampant through their beautiful school. Their dances, songs, and clothing reflected their uncertain world. Instant change was what their generation demanded, and many times, violent means were used to be heard.



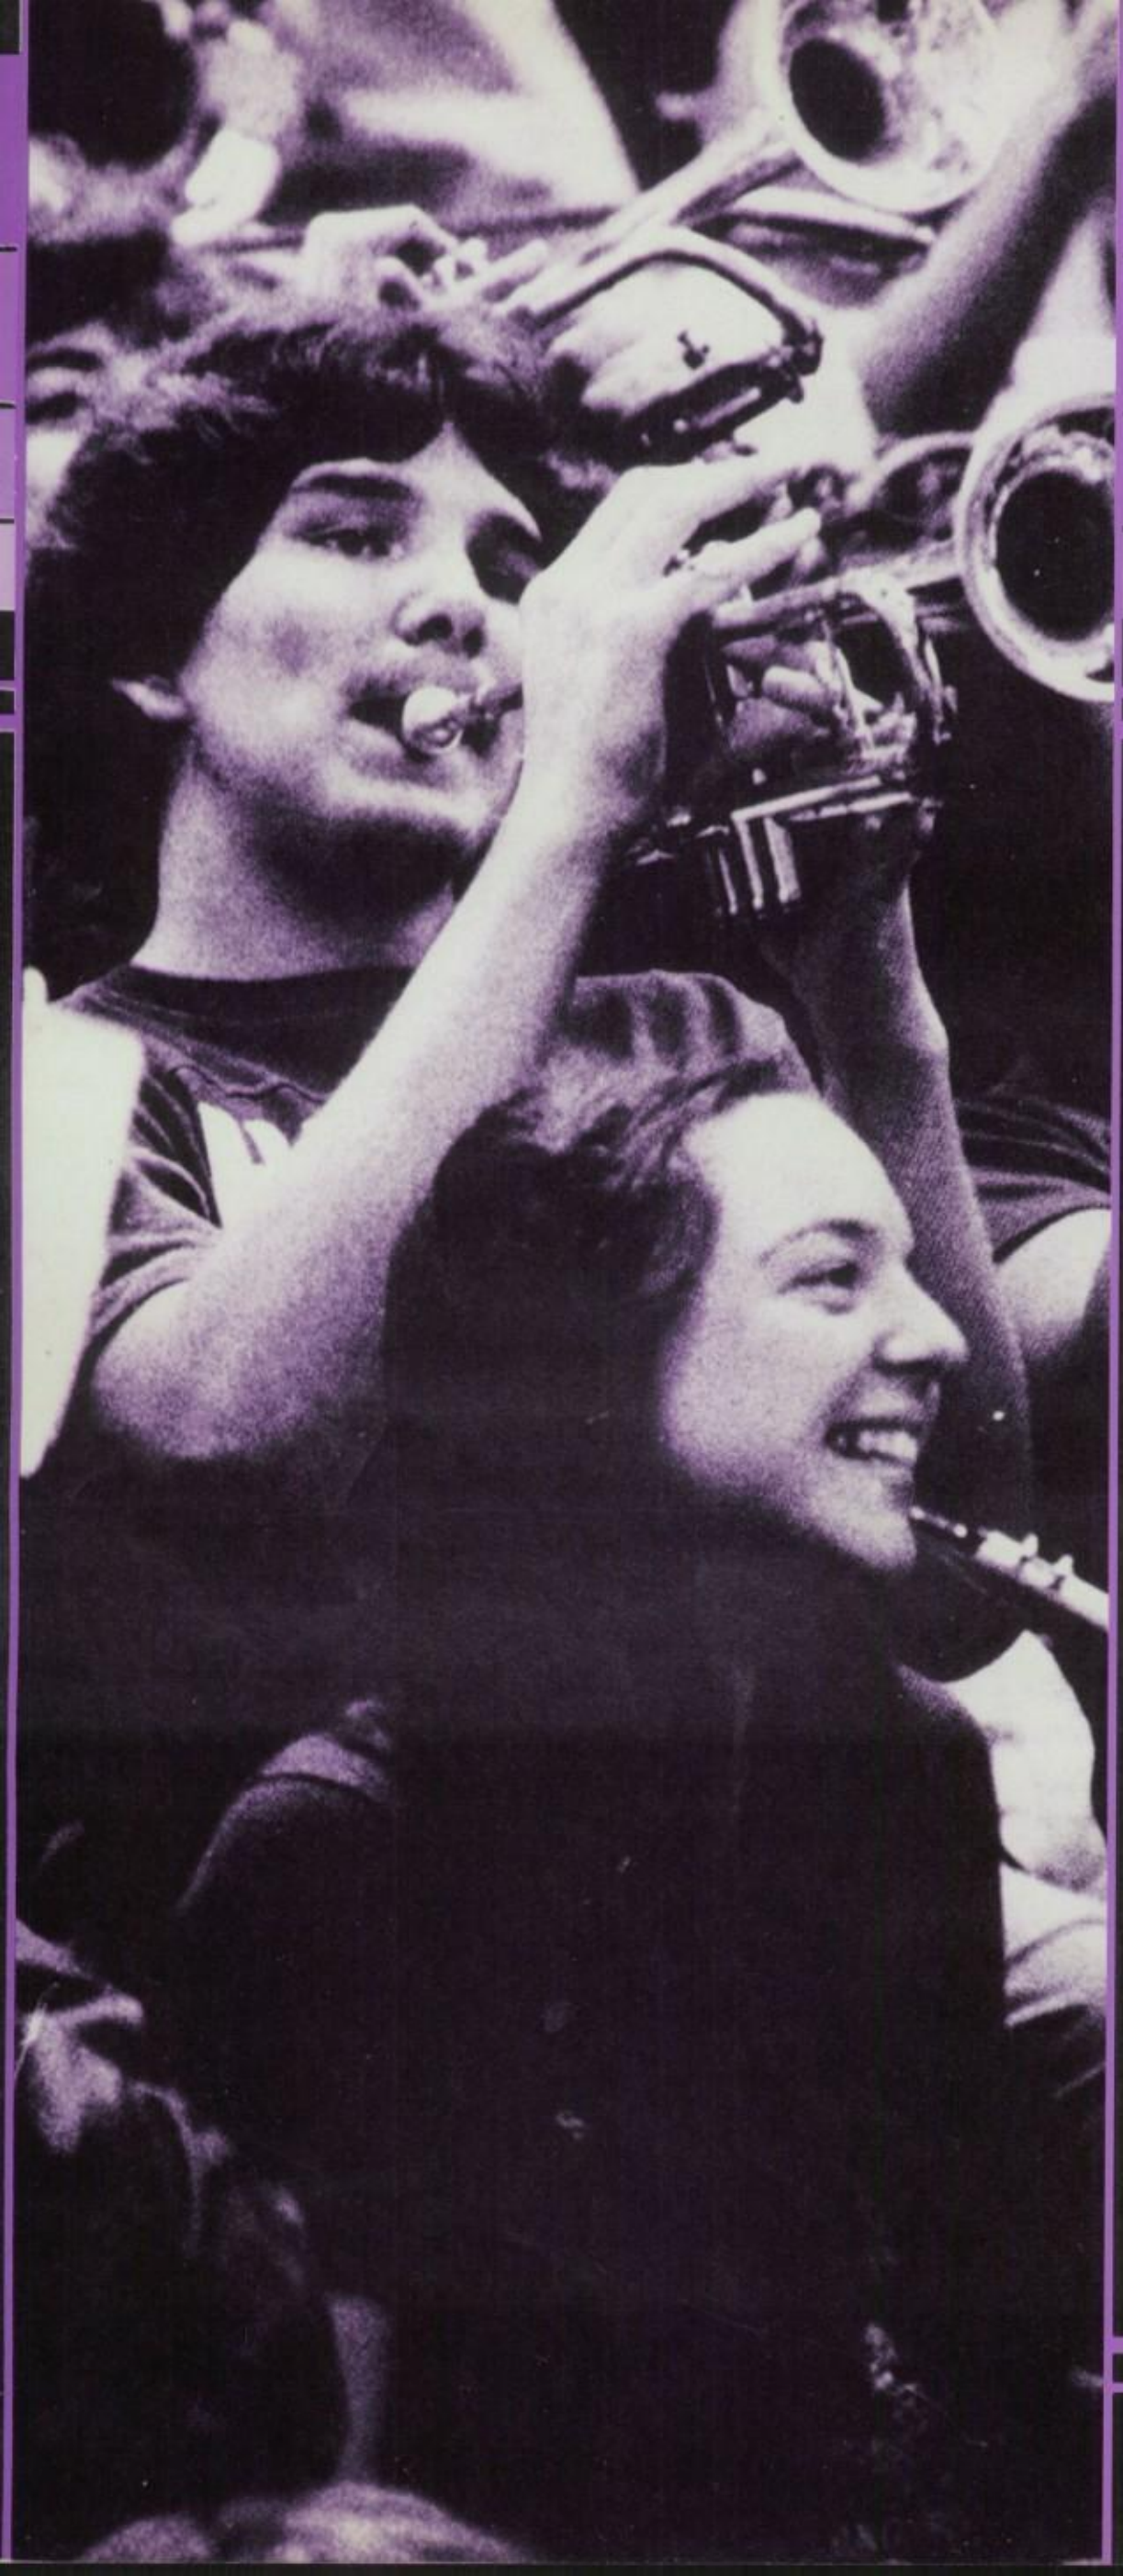
This year students returned to school dancing to disco and wearing stylish attire. Teenagers now are more conventional and concerned with orderly change. Their worries concern not how to change the world instantly but how to cope and gradually change the world for the better.







Although our spectrum changes constantly, some things remain forever a part of our lives. No one can take away the special times we have embedded in our memories. Because these moments happen too quickly some details may seem to be lost forever. Later in our lives, a certain song or picture will evoke the details. Though these moments can never exist again, we can still reflect on our SPECTRUM OF MEMORIES.



ACTIVITIES

Successful Dress-Up Days Start Off Homecoming '79

Thanks to imaginative student participation, the Dress-up Days not only raised Homecoming spirit but also produced some amusing costumes during Homecoming Week, October 8-13. Dressing up for Monday was easy enough as it was announced Favorite T-Shirt Day. Tuesday's Wild West Day brought a Western atmosphere as students attired themselves as cowboys, cowgirls, and indians. After school, a carnival-like Round-up provided classes and clubs with the opportunity to raise funds, and also provided S.B. President Bill Drobny the chance to introduce the Homecoming Royalty. Wednesday was Mix and Match Shoe Day and Hat and Tie Day. Students met the challenge with imagination as they came in fashions ranging from the very sophisticated to the down right silly. Nostalgia Day, held Thursday, took the school back to the '50's. Girls wore poodle skirts, bobby sox and ponytails while guys wore gang-member outfits and slicked back hair. John Eaddy and Fran Thompson were named the winners of the 50's Dance Contest held during lunch. Friday was proclaimed Purple and White Day to build spirit for the evening game. During both lunches, a Tally booth was set up to count the actual number of students who were wearing the school colors. The Tally was broken down into classes with the victor of the competition to be announced at the rally.

Rally Lifts Spirit for Game

After a week of spirit-raising through Dress up days, the Homecoming Rally managed to bring school spirit up to an even higher level. The rally started on a uplifting note for the Seniors as they were announced the victors of the Tally Competition. The Seniors had 40% of their class in purple and white compared to the Juniors' 21%. After a skit by the Drama Class and various routines by the cheerleaders and songsters, Sac cheerfullly welcomed back the Alumni Cheerleaders and Songsters. Then to boost spirit even higher, the cheerleaders led each class in the S-A-C spell out competition. To end the rally, judges declared the Sophomores the winners of the competition yell.

At 3:45, students staged a police-escorted march from Sac to Hughes Stadium. The Dragon Marching Band and Color Guard Led a mob of students through the various neighborhoods to their destination. Upon their arrival at Hughes, the pep squads eagerly awaited the start of the JV and Varsity Football Games.

Announcement of King and Queen Climaxes Halftime Activities

The election of Homecoming Royalty is a major event during Homecoming week. The careful planning and organization by Jill Hanna, Royalty Chairperson, and her committee made the event very successful.

Elections were held during lunch on Tuesday, Oct. 9. The whole Student Body participated by nominating a person from their own class. The nominees for Homecoming King of the class of 1980 were Orlando Blackwell, Todd Buckendorf, Gilbert Saenz, Curtis Roberts, and Steve Roberts. Lana DeBon, Paula Kidd, Kim Mar, Susan Nishimoto, and Liane Watanabe were the nominees for Homecoming Queen of the class of 1980. The crowning was held on Friday night at Hughes Stadium during the half-time activities. It began with the Royalty making their traditional entrance by cruising around the field in glamorous cars and ending at the platform.

Suspense filled the air as Principal Adolphus McGee announced the names of the Homecoming Royalty. Sigma Mu chose King Craig Wilson, Queen Linda Echols, Prince Vince Harrison, and Princess Ana Gastelum. Asian Club Homecoming Royalty was King Kevin Satow, Queen Mary Tam, Prince Jonathan Lee and Princess Judy Tam. King Rodney Bland, Queen Carla Blackwell, Prince Chuck Williams and Princess Pam Amey were chosen by the UBS Club. Maya Club chose King Noel Castro; Queen Norma Nava; Princes Tomas Banderas; and Arturo Guitierrez; and Princesses Norma Jimenez and Dorothy Ornelas

In the class of '83, Richard Cortez and Angela Stewart were selected Prince and Princess. Class of '82 chose Prince Vince Montoya and Princess Shawn Worthy. Prince Bryan Mier and Princess Kris Hill were picked by the Class of '81.

Then the moment the crowd anxiously awaited for arrived. Mr. McGee announced the Homecoming King and Queen for 1979: Orlando Blackwell and Lana DeBon. The Class of 1980 also chose Princes, Steve Roberts and Curtis Roberts, and Princesses, Paula Kidd and Kim Mar.

It was a tearful event as the Homecoming Queen of 1978, Sherree DeAnda, crowned the new Homecoming Queen of 1979.

Dragons Really "Take It to the Top"

With the Homecoming theme "Take It To The Top" plastered all over the home side on posters, Sac was set for their Homecoming game against Hiram Johnson High School. Athough spirit was slightly dampened by the JV's 18-0 loss, the crowd still anticipated a victory from the Varsity Team. During the first half of the game, the Alumni Songsters and Cheerleaders danced and cheered together for one last time. As they led the crowd in cheers, quarterback Chuck Williams led the Dragons to a halftime lead over the Johnson Warriors.

When the football teams left the field with Sac leading 9-0, halftime activities started. The Dragon Marching Band and Color Guard dazzled the crowd with their new halftime performance. Floats and Royalty were then presented, and the dramatic moment was at hand to introduce Lana DeBon and Orlando Blackwell, Homecoming Queen and King for 1979.

As the game resumed, the '79-'80 cheerleaders and songsters led the cheers for the remainder of the game. While the Royalty received their congratulations, the Dragons were holding the Johnson Warriors scoreless. In the fourth quarter Andrew Thornton caught a touchdown pass. This score was added to a field goal by Lenny Ortiz and a touchdown by Eddie Mitchell from the first half to make the final score 15-0, Dragons. Sac proved that they can "Take It To The Top"

Dance Tops Off Homecoming '79

The annual Homecoming Dance attracted a tremendous crowd of 800 Students discoed and rocked to tunes ranging from "Bad Girls" to "My Sharona" provided by the versitile band Odysus. The semi-formal affair Saturday night also netted a hefty $1300 for the Student Body Treasury.

Enthusiastic student body participation resulted in a truly memorable Sac High Homecoming. From the wacky dress up days to the classy dance, success was certainly the word to describe the action packed week. The excitement and fun enjoyed by all may be proof enough for Homecoming '79 to go down as the best in Sac High history!

Unexpected Profit Adds To Success Of First Dance

Although staged by Student Government primarily to boost student body card sales, the Back to School Dance brought in an unexpected one hundred and forty dollars for the Student Body treasury. To encourage the purchase of student body cards, presale tickets were priced at only fifty cents with a student body card. Students who paid at the door, however, were charged two dollars and fifty cents.

Approximately two hundred and fifty students showed up to dance to the music provided by Kobi-Rolo D.J.'s. The event was held Friday, September 14th from 8 p.m. to 12 a.m. in the Sac High Commons Area. This successful first dance started the school year off on a good note for both the students and Student Government.

Halloween A Howling Success

A Dracula there, a Raggedy Ann here, people were dressed in costumes everywhere. October 31st was an eerie day that will long be remembered. Students and teachers came to school dressed in all types of outlandish costumes ranging from cowboys to creepy creatures from horror movies. Mr. Tequida donned the prize-winning outfit. To top off the day, a hair raising Halloween production sponsored by the Drama Department was held during a combined one hour lunch period.

Rehearsals Produce Excellent Performances Of "A Thurber Carnival"

Over eight weeks of rehearsals paid off for the cast and crew of "A Thurber Carnival" as they produced a top-rate performance. "A Thurber Carnival" is a collection of stories by James Thurber depicting the male's view of life's domination by women. The selection of this play required the actors and actresses to master difficult techniques in acting out this sophisticated satire. Timing, pacing and limiting gestures had to be learned to bring out the subtle humor in the language of the play. Despite the excellence of the play, the first few nights of the play managed to attract only small crowds. However, the word on the play spread, and the attendence on the last two nights of the performance was outstanding.

Faculty Swamps Media All-Stars

The Sac High faculty proved they are not a bunch of behind the desk flunkies by overpowering the Media All Stars, 82-58. This fundraiser for the athletic department, provided students with the unique opportunity to watch their teachers in action.

After halftime, the faculty were leading 44-30; the Media All-Stars attempted a comeback, bringing the lead down to only seven points. Their try, however, was halted by the offensive power of the faculty. Cross Country Coach Joe Silva led the teachers with 19 points, Basketball Coach Manny Tequida followed with 17 points, J. V. Football Coach Tommy Allen with 15 and Business Education Teacher Frank Withrow with 10.

Freshman Squads Provide Spirit For Crowdless Games

Although the Freshmen pep squads received little exposure, their overflowing enthusiasm was certainly felt by the teams they rooted to victory. They attended all Freshmen football and basketball games and often provided the only source of encouragement for the players. After the squads were chosen, cheers and dance routines had to be put together quickly for the football season and the fall rallies. In the Freshmen Cheerleaders and Songsters, Sac is assured of the continuing excellence in the field of cheerleading.

JV Cheer Lead With Skill

Encouraging Sac's teams to victory, the JV Cheerleaders refused to let the low turnouts at the JV games dampen their spirits. Winning the Superior Trophy at cheerleading camp, they used yells learned at camp as well as their own originals to elevate the crowd's spirit and invite their participation. Being Sophomore representatives, they also worked to promote class spirit. Attendance by each of the members was excellent as they often turned out in full force at the games. Led by Head Rosalyn Harlow, the JV Cheerleaders raised spirits to new highs with skill surpassing that of many Varsity squads.

JV Songsters Innovate Dance nto Cheerleading

Although they were limited to cheerleading during most of the games, the JV Songsters did their part to provide dance by adding dance movements to many of the cheers. Because the band provided music only during the Varsity games, the Songsters were unable to perform their dance routines at the games and danced mainly in the rallies. Their style was original and creative proving why they won second place in competition at camp. The songsters were outstanding in supporting the cheerleaders at the games. The dance movements they added to the cheers created a distinct new Sac High style of cheerleading.

Varsity Songsters are Crowd-Pleasers

The year got off to a great start for the Varsity Songsters as they were presented the highest award at camp, the Unity Award. Dancing to music by both the band and records, the Songsters created and performed many crowd-pleasing routines. While the songsters' routines of many schools tended to be unoriginal and monotonous, Sac's Varsity proved to be just the opposite. Modern dance techniques added more life to such music as "Last Dance", "Shake Your Groove Thing", and "Jump, Shout Boogie". When the team was losing, and spirit was low, the Varsity Songsters were always around providing energy-filled entertainment.

Varsity Cheerleaders Provoke Fun

The Varsity Cheerleaders excelled this year by winning the Superior Trophy Competition at the United Spirit Association Summer Camp held at the University of California at Santa Cruz. Attending the cheerleading camp was well worth the effort because of the success enjoyed by the football and basketball teams. Close games found the cheerleaders leading the crowd in yelling competitions against the opposing side. Most of the time, however, the cheerleaders concentrated on getting the crowd to root for the team.

The cheerleaders this year had a personality of their own. Showing up in funny hats and glasses was one antic from the cheerleaders this year. They were stylish and loud in their cheering. With most of them returning, next year should be another fun-filled year.

Under the guidance of Band Director, Mr. Ike Paggett; Head Drum Major Debbie Frincke; and Assistant Drum Major Jenny Kwan, the Dragon Marching Band and Color Guard completed another award-winning season. This year's band was faced with the tough task of matching up to the success of the '78-'79 band whose year had been highlighted by performances at the Pig Bowl and at the King Kamehameha Parade in Hawaii.

Practicing began in the summer and as Homecoming approached, band members reported to practice before school to perfect their halftime show. As the day of the CSUS Band Competition neared, band members practiced from as early as 7:30 in the morinig, overcoming complaints from the neighborhood, the chilling morning air, and sleepiness.

This rehearsing paid off handsomely at the CSUS Band Competition as the Sacramento High School Dragon Marching Band won first place in their division and were defeated by Kennedy High School by less than five points. Versitility was shown as Sac's crowd-pleasing show consisted of music ranging from the powerful arrangement of "Shostakovich" to the disco tune of "Last Dance". (con't on page 34)

In parade competition the band received a third place trophy at the "Best of the Bands" competition and the Sweepstakes Trophy at the Old Sac Round-up Parade. Misdirections prevented the band from bringing home a first place trophy from the Woodland Christmas Parade. Many felt that the Sacramento High School band was the best in the parade but the band was disqualified for missing their first inspection. A third place ribbon won by the flag line and the presentation of the Chairman's Trophy prevented a wasted trip.

Leaders in the various sections of the band keep the responsiblitity of the entire band from falling on the band director and the drum majors. These leaders are as follows: Ralph Pletz (Baritones), Karen Kronquest (Clarinets), Kris Geer (Color Guard), Greg Saunders (Drums), Debbie Dixon (Flutes), Delores Howerter (Saxaphones), Bill Drobny (Sousaphones), Bill Hammond (Trombones), and Gary Wong (Trumpets).

Normally, the band transfers to concert season at the beginning of the second semester. However, this year the band opted for the continuation of participation in marching competition. So, For the '79-'80 band, practices during the freezing winter morning continued as they prepared to capture more honors in the spring.

Jazz Band Rates High Among High School Bands

The 1979-80 school year proved very successful for Sac High's Jazz band. In January, they placed second at the Sac City Jazz Festival. Later in the year, the Jazz Band rated high marks at out of town festivals such as the Reno Jazz Festival, and the Bear Valley Jazz Festival. They rounded out their successful year in May with the Cal Expo Jazz Festival.

As well as performing at many festivals, the jazz band played at various functions in the community and entertained many people. This highly talented group had several successes and is very proud of all the talent in the band.

Thirteen Named to Honor Choir

The grads are not the only persons to wear purple robes on this campus. Those purple robes also clad members of the concert choir.

This year the chorus participated in the Sigma Mu recital and Northern Valley Honor Choir. The superior quality of the choir was shown as Ana Gastelum, Carol Savage, Laura Howton, Lisa Britton, Circe Tolley, Kristen Kronquest, Jane Schuneman, Heather Viau, Leslie Stanton, Keven Daniels, John Eaddy, Vincent Harrison and Sam Damian were selected to the Honor Choir.

Christmas Spirit Returns to Sac

Christmas was the time of rejoicing and letting go. Most students were well spirited. The good spirit was sensed here at the school, with the hall decorations, rally and Christmas dance.

Christmas trees and decorated halls brought the Christmas atmosphere back to Sac. The classes decorated the halls, hoping to win the Hall Decoration Competition. The Freshmen were the first to put up their decorations. Unfortunately they were torn down by vandals, time and time again. In the end, however, the Freshmen were declared the winners. The Seniors-Juniors came in second with the Soph-Juniors last.

The Winter Spirit Rally added to the Christmas Spirit. Counselor, Mrs. Josie Washington, presented herself as Santa Claus; however, several Key Clubbers were the main attraction of the rally. The club cheerleaders chased off the regular cheerleaders and proceeded to lead the Juniors with their presentation of the S-A-C spell-out. The Seniors managed to fight back their laughter long enough to yell their way to another victory.

Freeryde, a top band, was unable to draw a large crowd at the Christmas dance, but the students who attended showed their Christmas Spirit. Students and staff rejoiced together and danced until early hours.

Students as well as facutly enjoyed the Christmas week. The whole week was thoroughly filled with excitement and spirit. We hoped to see this spirit throughout the year and future rallies, dances, etc.

Key Club Pulls A Surprise On Mr. McGee

Valentine's Day, Black History Week and a surprise farewell for Mr. McGee were all celebrated at the Valentine's Day Rally, February 14th. Despite the careful organization by Spring rally chairmen, Kris Hill and Genette Treaster, what could go wrong, did go wrong as the Freshmen Songsters saw their weeks of rehearsing crushed by a malfunction in the P.A. system. Overshadowing the mishap was the Key Club's tribute to Mr. McGee. Out from an enormous heart-shaped cake popped three cupids, complete with diapers, wings and bows & arrows, surprising the crowd as well as Mr. McGee. After the hysterical laughter simmered down, a real cake was presented to Mr. McGee. Finally, the long awaited S-A-C Spell-out was contested, and the winners — the mighty Seniors.

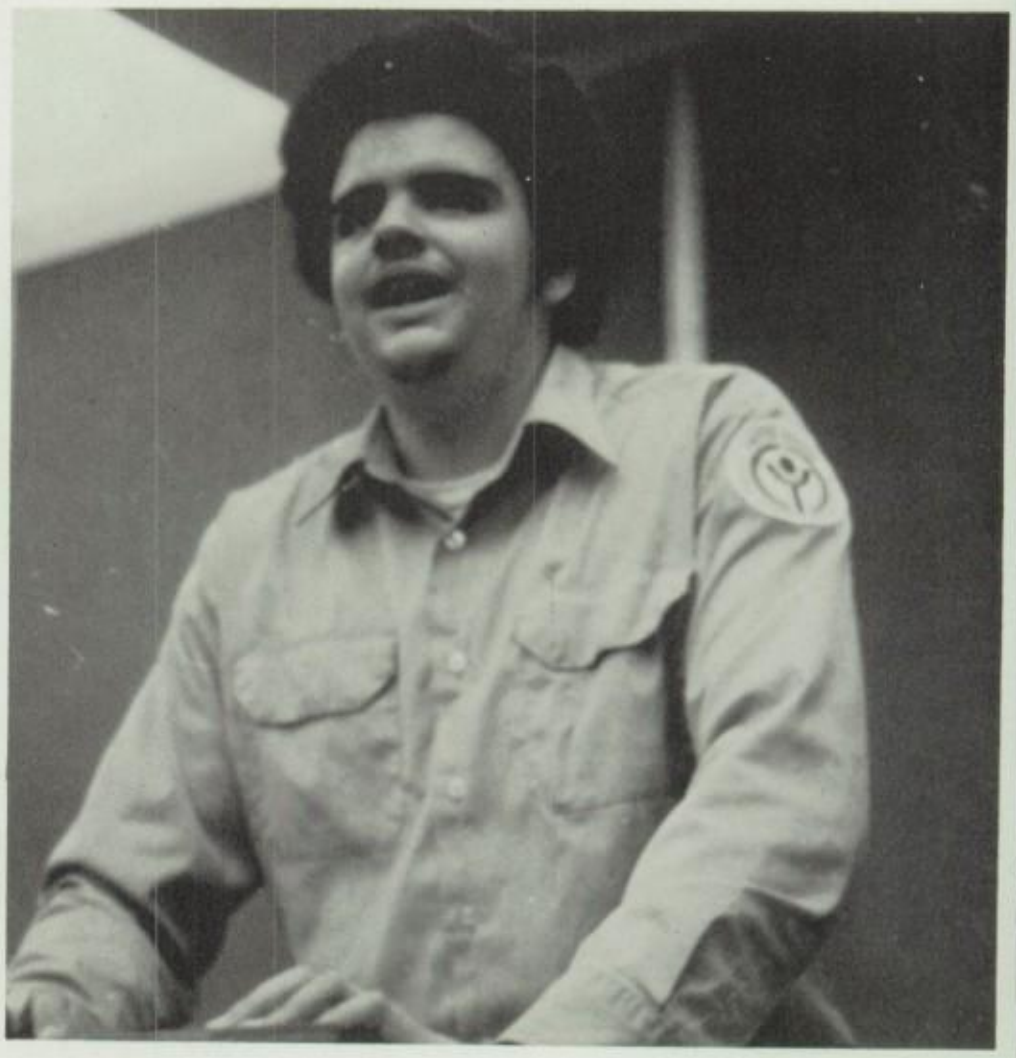
Forensics and Debate Compete with Small Team



This year our Dragon Debate Team lacked in membership. However, the quality of the members made up for it. Each member on the squad participated in at least one individual event. The Debate Team has won many trophies this year in such events as Debate, Impromptu, and Prose and Poetry. The squad prepared for the State Meet in San Jose in May where they competed with High School students from all over the state.

Media Production Class Provide Instruction and Service

The best technically equipped high school in the area, Sacramento High offers students interested in media to learn more than textbook instruction. Instructed by Mr. Doug Peckham, these students learn about the various equipment and how to use them. Judging from past records, this program is also effective in preparing students for college media courses and qualifying them for jobs.

The program benefits not only the interested students, but also the entire student body. Competitive groups, ranging from the football team to the marching band, benefit by watching their performances played back on tape. The dedicated filming crew also captures student body and faculty activities for later viewing. Most evident among the media production services is the daily broadcast of the student bulletin. Unlike the situation in other schools, Sac's teachers have one less task to worry about as the Daily Bulletin is dependably read by students over the P.A. system every 2nd period. When special circumstances arise, the information is quickly relayed to students and teachers over the air. Though their services are often taken for granted, the media production class provides a valuable contribution to the school.

X-Ray Keeps Students and Faculty Informed

Keeping Sac High students up-to-date on the events and issues on campus was the goal successfully achieved by the X-Ray Staff. Editor Clara Pettit and Assistant Editor Lauren McGuire held the paper together while Eugene Standfield, in his first year as the X-Ray Sponsor, provided valuable assistance in the basics of good journalism. Business Manager William Schauf sold ad space to augment the cost of printing and distribution. Photographers were added to the staff this year for the first time. Editorials, sports, event dates, and reader replies were among the features in the X-Ray that kept students and faculty informed.

Staff Overcomes Photography Problems

What appears to be a perennial problem was once again the major concern in the production of the 1980 school annual. The REVIEW staff suffered numerous setback in the production of the book due to lost pictures and negatives and the wastage of photographic materials. Deadlines were missed and the possibility of a late yearbook haunted the staff.

Despite the problem of photography, the crew held together to produce a quality yearbook up to the high standards of Sac's Student Body. With the knowledge and experience of the second-year students and the fresh new ideas of the newcomers, the united staff labored week after week trying to make their final deadline in early March. Without the help and the cooperation of the staff, the final deadline was met. Complaint and suggestions from the school were carefully considered in the organization and production of the book.

Student Government Progresses in the New Decade

Guided by Student Body President Bill Drobny, the 1979-80 Student Government has done an excellent job of representing and meeting the needs of the Student Body. In spite of the handicap caused by the loss of the Student Activities Director, the council sponsored many outstanding activities.

This was a year of many changes for Student Government. With help from Advisor Mr. Laskey, the council drafted and passed a new Student Body Constitution. Under the new constitution, the titles of the Vice Presidents were changed to Vice President of Internal Affairs (once V.P. of Student Activities) and Vice President of External Affairs (once V.P. of Interschool Relations). A new committee system was established where the two Vice Presidents served as advisors. Also a scrapbook of the year's activities was kept by the Historian.

Student Government's first major activity for the fall was the Homecoming celebrations. Under the supervision of Vice Presidents Jean Fong and Kelly Davis, the event has a huge success. This was followed with many more activities like the annual Halloween, Thanksgiving and Christmas holiday activities. Before long, a new year as well as a new decade rolled around. Just a few days after returning to school from the Christmas vacation , Student Government held its 1st Annual Winter Homecoming. Two days of activities were held to raise spirit and support for the basketball teams. Other activities planned for the year included Sadie Hawkins Day and the big End of the School Year dance.

This has truly been a year of changes for Student Government.

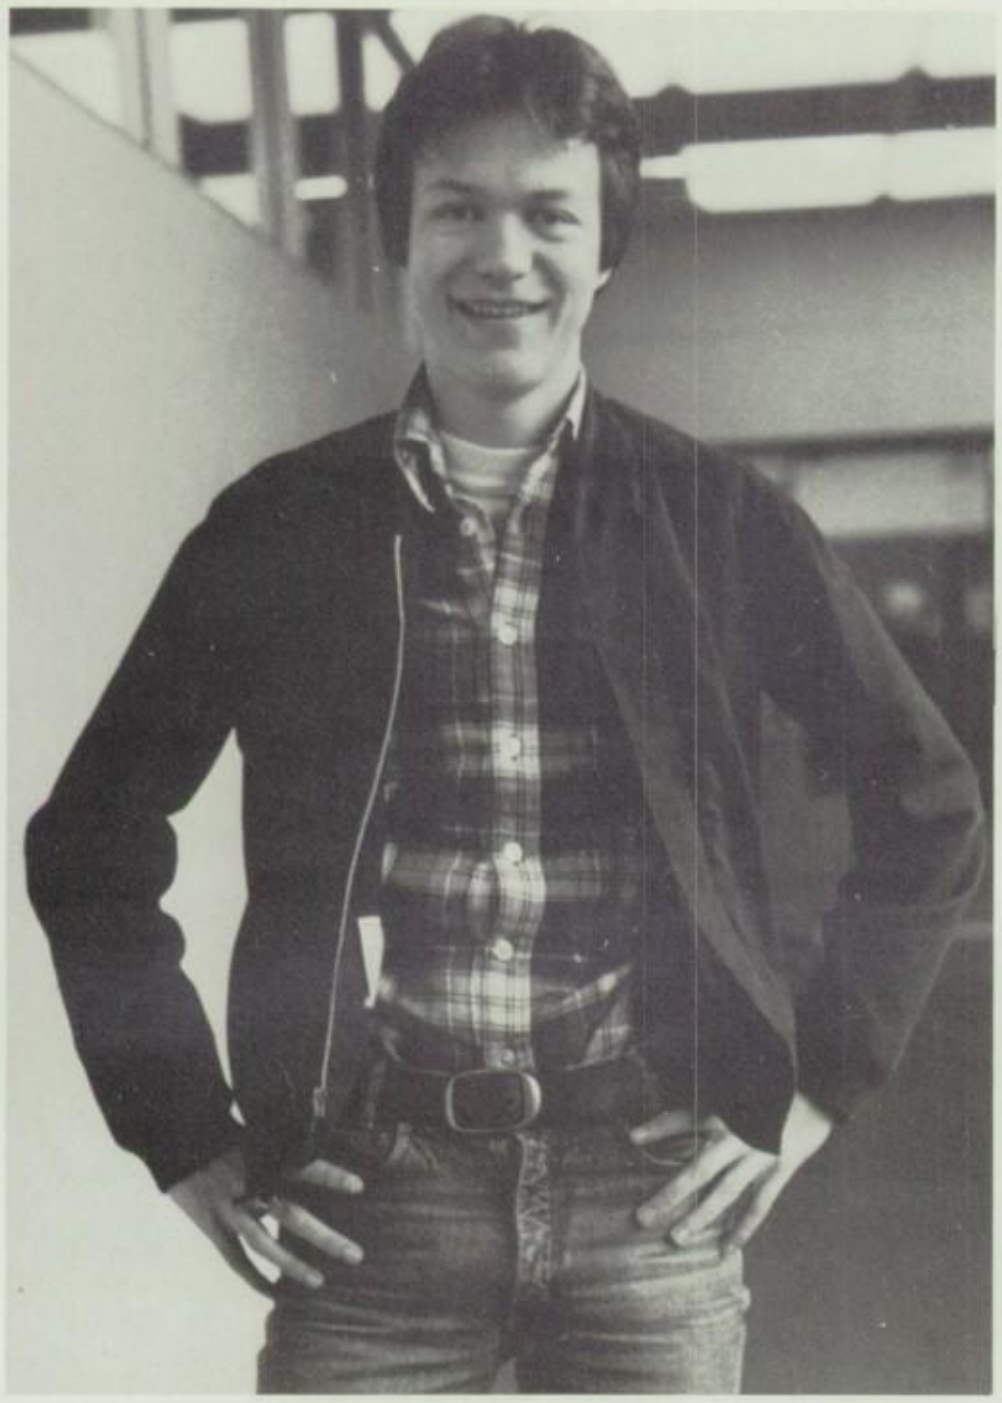
International Dragons Add Variety

This year's exchange student from Luxemborg is eighteen year old Christiane Linster. Luxemborg is one of the smallest countries in Europe. It is not a well-known country; however, it is important in European politics. Christiane's school at home has about two-thirds the number of Dragons that we have and it goes from grade seven to thirteen. The students do not get to choose their classes and the competition in education is higher.

Christiane signed up with the American Field Service because she wanted a change and she thought it would be fun to be in the USA. Some of the differences that she has found are that guys are shorter and kids drive a lot more here. "We don't have chocolate chip cookies, MacDonald's and microwaves," said Christiane.

Things at Sac High that Christiane likes are choosing your own classes and only taking five classes. She says the work is easier and the teachers are more flexible than in Luxemborg.

RIGHT: Jon Engdal from Norway and Christiane Linster enjoy being in America and at Sac High.



Stavanger, Norway is the home of Bjorn Steinholt who is visiting Sac High this year. In Norway, they start school at six or seven and only go for nine years before deciding to continue school or to go to work.

Bjorn's father travels to the United States for business frequently, and Bjorn wanted to find out for himself what it was like. He said that people are spread out a lot more here and you have to have a car to get anywhere. Bjorn said, "At home you have to be eighteen to get a license, so we have to use public transportation."

The things that Bjorn likes best about Sacramento High is the school spirit. There also seems to be a good selection of classes and a lot of respect for the teachers. Then he added that maybe he had not been in the noisy classes.

Mitsumi Kumagami is a seventeen year old exchange student from Japan. In Japan they take trains every time, even to school. Almost every public high school has a uniform, while private schools do not. "In school," Mitsumi says, "The students stay in their classroom and the teachers move for us." Their school year starts in April and all the students in the same grade have to take the same classes.

Mitsumi wanted to come to America to see and meet the people, not to study. She likes to go to the football and basketball games and enjoys the school dances. Mitsumi was an active member of the volleyball, basketball, and softball teams. When asked what she liked about Sac High, she said that it was the friendly people, especially on the teams.

Faculstaff Follies Gathers Great Appeal

Students, comprising a majority of the audience, packed the Mel Lawson Performing Arts Theater to be treated to a fantastically entertaining evening by some of their instructors, administrators and other members of the Sac High family. With Business Education instuctor Frank Withrow hosting the show with his clever poetic narration, acts such as the Sac High International Faculty Fashion Ensemble. Accordionist Elaine Lloyd, and the Jitterbug dancers displayed their talents to the responsive audience. (continued on page 59)

The climax of the program, directed by Mrs. Connie Mockenhaupt and Miss Barbara Slemmons, was the production of "Sagebrush Sal". Freida Fife (Sagebrush Sal) and Mr. John Baily (Jake the Snake) gave enchanting performances in the staring roles. It was Amador Gonzales, however, who stole the show over the course of the night with his "bumble bee dance" and his portrayal of "Heartbleed Haymeadow," the poor, unreluctant groom of Sagebrush Sal's gaukly daughter, "Hazeltine" (Mr. Derac Krumm). The profits off the night were put to good use as they were added to the Faculty's scholarship fund.

Broadway On The Loose is Back!!!

One of the most exciting events on campus in the spring is Broadway On The Loose. Over one hundred students gather to tremble during auditions, learn songs so well that you have to sing them in the halls, and struggle over dance combinations. After hours of work and last minute jitters, the show is on and the audience loves it. When it is all over you have made lots of new friends and have some great memories.

The California Scholarship Federation's purpose is to sponsor high standards of scholarship and achievments.

Under the leadership of President Kelly Davis, CSF has been busy planning meetings, parties, and fundraisers. This year's fundraisers included bake sales, car washes and the selling of school pennants. A portion of the money raised by CSF members was spent on two field trips, one to San Fransisco and the other to Marriots. The remainder of the money was donated to the James Deguzman Memorial Scholarship and the Charles F. Seymour Award.

CSF has been actively participating in Student Government and other school functions, too. During Homecoming week, CSF built a float for the Homecoming parade.

Between their busy schedules, CSF members also encourage other students interest in high standards of achievements by offering a tutoring service.

Math Honor Participation Picks Up

Throughout the year, Math Honor has been working to regain its active participation in the school. The club held many activities which included selling banners for the games, selling little candy cane crafts during Christmas, and sending candy grams on Valentine's Day. At the end of every school year, Math Honor awards to its junior members a book of important mathematical formulas and tables. The year was one of continuous uphill climb and struggle but the club made it with flying colors.

Key Club Strikes Again!!!

Under the leadership of President Greg Lyall, Sac High's Key Club completed another successful year of community service and crazy antics. The club's most outstanding service this year was the Christmas party for the handicapped. Together with other members of the organization, they brought food, music and love to make Christmas a very special holiday.

Beside all the service contributions the Key Club makes, they also performed some outrageous things to spice up the rallies. Dressed in cheerleading uniforms with skirts repulsivley short, six male club members led the S-A-C Spell Out during the Christmas rally. Their performance was so outstanding that Santa Claus gave three of the six cheerleaders wings and arrows so they could appear at the Valentine's Day Rally as charming cupids. To increase their popularity even further, these Key Clubbers performed their version of "Macho Man" at the Sadie Hawkins Rally. Junior Ana Gastelum was chosen this year's Key Club Sweetheart. Her poise and personality enabled her to also become the Division Sweetheart.

All in all, the Key Club did an amazing job of providing service to the community and the school.

Asian Club Shares Their Culture

The Asian Club's purpose is to keep the Asian culture alive.

This year the Asian Club has been busy planning activities for Asian Week which is held in late March. The activities range from the selling of Asian food to demonstrations of martial arts. In whole, the student body enjoyed the experience of sharing a different culture.

Aside from the planning of Asian Week, the club has been raising money for the Walter Yee Memorial Scholarship and the Mamie Lee Memorial Scholarship. The Scholarships are given to graduating students who have done a great service for the Asian Club and the Asian Community.

Each year the Asian Club also raises money for a trip. This year the club raised enough money for two trips. One trip, held in February, was a snow trip to Sierra Ski Ranch and the other to Santa Cruz.

All in all the Asian Club had a fun and successful year.

VIVA LA RAZA!!!

"Viva la raza!" means long live the race. The Maya Club has been on campus for many years. Their purpose is to promote their Mexican-American heritage.

This year's big event was the Cinco de Mayo celebration which was held during the week of May 5-9. The week included the selling of mexican food and pastries, a car show, a Zoot-Suit Day, and an assembly. The students had a good time dressing up and driving their low-riders around the school campus. The activities were well organized and very successful.

Aside from the big celebration, the Maya Club also sold burritos, sweet bread, balloons, life-saver lollipops, and carnations during the year. The money raised by the members goes to three $100.00 scholarships for graduating seniors.

The new club on campus this year is the Armenian Club. Their purpose is to promote a better understanding of the Armenian culture and to preserve the Armenian way of life. AFS Offers Unique Experience For Members

The American Field Service (A.F.S.) is Sac's international exchange club. The main purpose of this organization is to finance and support student exchanges with other countries around the world. The A.F.S. student for this year is Christiane Linster from Luxemberg. The increased size of the club had a major impact on the its activities which include a short-term student exchange with Dixon and a skate-a-thon and painting curbs in the local neighborhood to raise money for the exchanges. A.F.S. offers a different experience for its members.

Ski Club Hits The Slopes!!!

The 1980 Ski Club has had an interesting year. The club has a large membership, but could not get enough people for their trips. They did have one successful trip on Saturday, January 12. A busload made it to Sierra Ski Ranch. The weather was nice and the skiers went without their jackets. Some highlights of this trip included Paul Chan hitting a tree, Jeff Sellers jabbing his knee in his face, and Liz Cassis making it all the way down the hill and leaving her poles at the top.

Beaux Arts Sponsors Many Successful Events

Beaux Arts students sacrificed their precious leisure hours to create imaginative projects. Proceeds from the program, amounting to several hundred dollars, were used for the Beaux Arts Scholarship. Outstanding Senior art students are selected for the scholarship each spring through art portiolio competition.

This year's art activities sponsored by the arts department with the help of the Beaux Arts club, were highly successful. Halloween Howls, the Christmas Boutique, and Youth Arts Week held in March, were presented to an enthusiastic Student Body. Each activity was filled with an air of excitement. The Beaux Arts Club terminates each year's program with a trip to the Bay Area Galleries and Art Schools.

Cross Country Team Completes Successful Year

Cross Country is one of the most difficult sports to compete in at the high school level. The fifteen students who participate on the 1979 Cross Country team were extremely dedicated and made the heavy sacrifices which are necessary to become successful both at the team and individual levels of this sport.

Under the direction of Coach Joe Silva, the Cross Country Team had a very successful year. The Junior Varsity Squad won the Metro League Title as well as the Sub-Section Championship. This JV Squad consisting of Bill Woska, Rich Hanna, Hector Bill, Darius Daniels, Ricky Beverly, David Hayes, and Robrt Harrison,proved to be the nucleus of the team. On the individual level, Freshman Scott Coben advanced to the Sections, and Senior Greg Gorman won the Section Championship to round up a successful season.

Low Interest Results in Average Season

The coaches and team members battled low interest throughout the season to put together respectable teams. During the season, players were switched back and forth between the JV and Varsity teams. This maneuvering enable the young players to gain experience and the coaches to put forth a competitive team. The Varsity team won six out of twelve league games to place fifth in the league. Many of these victories were possible through the skillfulness of MVP Robert Krieger and Most Improved Player Mark Jones. Jose Gonzales and Bjorn Steinholt were named Honorable Mention. The coaches and players deserve congratulations for their well fought season.

Dedication Improves Team Spirit

The Women's Varsity Tennis Team started the year with an incomplete team due to a lack of interest. As the season progressed into the Metro matches, enthusiasm built. New members joined to complete the team. Through each team member's hard work and dedication, they came in third in the Metro League with an impressive record of 8 wins and 6 losses.

At the end of the season Angela Schmidt, who had an individual record of 11-3 was voted the Most Valuable Player. The Most Improved Player was Tina Agee. Other members also acquired an outstanding record: Jenny Kwan, 10-4; Sharon Fung, 9-5; Ellen Cochran, 8-4, and Lizzie Wright, 7-7.

Varsity Battles to Strong Finish

Winning four of their last six games, the 1979 Varsity football team waited until the latter part of the season to display its real potential. On paper the team looked exceedingly tough at the start of the season but failed to win any of their first four games. On Homecoming night, however, the Dragons came alive. The Varsity gridders contributed to the success of Homecoming by shutting out the Johnson Warriors, 15-0, for their first victory of the season. Sac continued to annihilate its opponents losing only to Section AAA champion Cordova and Metro League runner-up Kennedy.

Post-season honors went to linemen Michael Carter (Most Valuable) and Troy Fontes (Most Outstanding).

Team Looks Forward to Next Year

The Junior Varsity Football team suffered a disappointing season as they were unable to generate a productive offense. Carrying a six-game scoreless streak into the game against the awesome Cordova Lancers, the Dragons appeared destined to a humiliating defeat. The Dragons, however, surprised everyone as they gave the Lancers a scare with a first half touchdown. Sac's finest game unfortunately was also their last game. In the pouring rain the Dragons met Menlo-Atherton on a mud-covered field. Taking advantage of the sloppy turf, the Dragons slipped their way to their best offensive output.

With experienced players like Scott Crowl (Most Valuable Player), the team is looking forward to a promising season next fall.

Freshmen Football Creates Team Pride

The win-loss record is not an accurate indication of the success of the Freshmen Football season. They compiled a 1-3-1 record. Their success is shown in the skills learned, the experience gained, and the positive attitudes developed. All games showed the competitive spirit of the team. The Freshmen program attempts to create team pride, with emphasis on team work and the understanding that success is the result of hard work.

JV Takes Third

The Junior Varsity Volleyball Team started their season with an exciting match, defeating River City 15-10 and 15-1. As the team entered their league play, each player's skill and ability improved with the coaching of Lorraine Simmons, a former Sac High Volleyball player. Along with the great coaching, the teams's hard work and dedication gave them 9 wins of their 15 matches played. This acceptable record resulted in the team's third place finish.

Metro Title Gained By Varsity Volleyball

Our 1979 Volleyball seasons was very exciting and rewarding, culminating with our winning the Metro Title. This fine team began with three pre-season victories, then continued its winning ways into league play by winning eleven of its twleve matches. This gave the team a seasonal record of fourteen wins with just one loss.

In our first tournmament of the season at Davis we finished second in our pool to the team that was to be the eventual winner. Two weeks later our girls took first place at the Third Annual Kiwanis Invitational Tournament at Turlock. In addition, two of our players LaVerne Simmons and Maria Parker, were further honored by being named to the All Star Team. Much of our success can be attributed to the dedication of the players. Sheri Wright and Carrie Fong deserve special mention for their dedication and team spirit. The team's attitudes were superb as was the comradship asd confidence they held in one another. They showed a strong desire to win. Qualities such as these are essential in winning.

Injuries Plague Gymnastics Team

Gymnastics is an exciting sport that requires strength, flexibility, and a certain flair. This year's Gymnastics Team has shown all this and more. However, they did not do as well as expected. Plagued by injuries, the Varsity Team lost two of its most important members, Terri Schumacher and Nancy Hunt. Each girl that did participate placed at least once. The Gymnastics Team also hosted the Sac-Jouquin Section Meet.

Guess Who!

Small Teams Represent Sac

The 1979-1980 Sac High Wrestling team consisted of Varsity members: Alonzo Pogue (95 lbs.), Paul Pogue (103 lbs,), Roman Wagner (112 lbs.), Steven Cochran (133 lbs), Ralph Cruz (138 lbs.), Kevin Cochran (145 lbs.), Gordon Burger (154 lbs.), Richard Russell (165 lbs.), and Raul Ramirez (191 lbs.). The J.V. team consisted of Alonzo Pogue (951 lbs.), Stephan Allard (112 lbs.), and Lance Brown (133 lbs.), Maurice Townsend (191 lbs.), was the single Freshmen team member.

The squad had returning varsity lettermen Paul Pogue, Ralph Cruz, Kevin Cochran and Raul Ramirez to lead the Dragon matmen to a 2-3-1 league record and a fourth place finish in the Metro League. Raul was the only wrestler from Sac's team to capture the Metro League Championship Crown. He compiled a 19-8 win-loss record and was voted

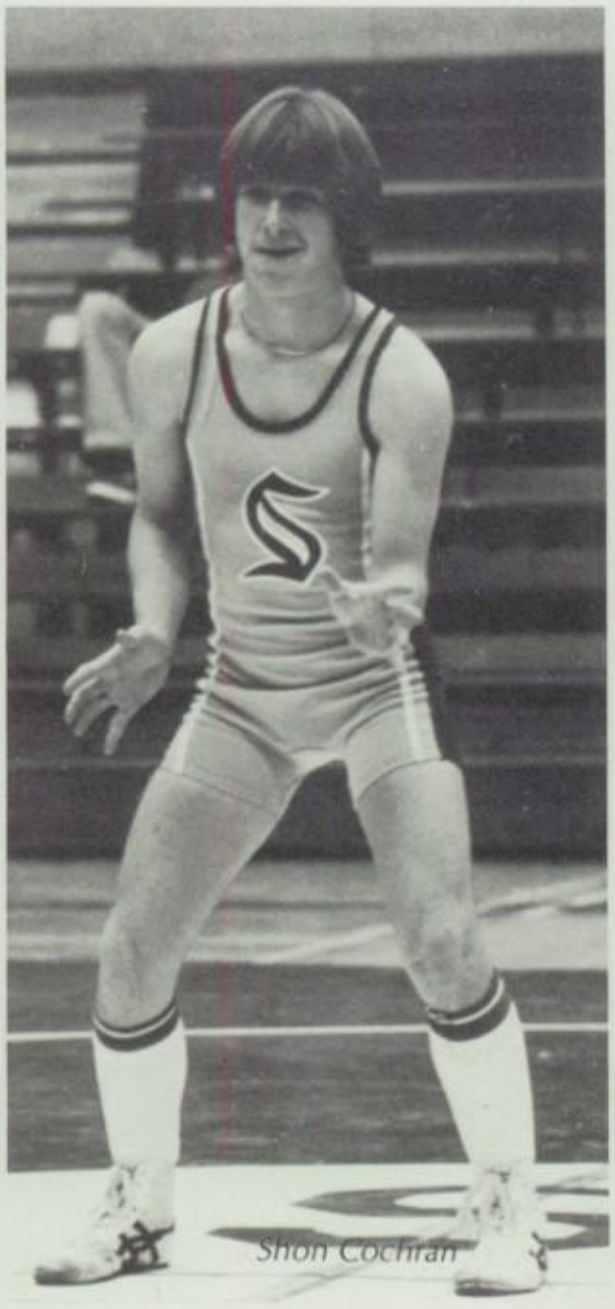
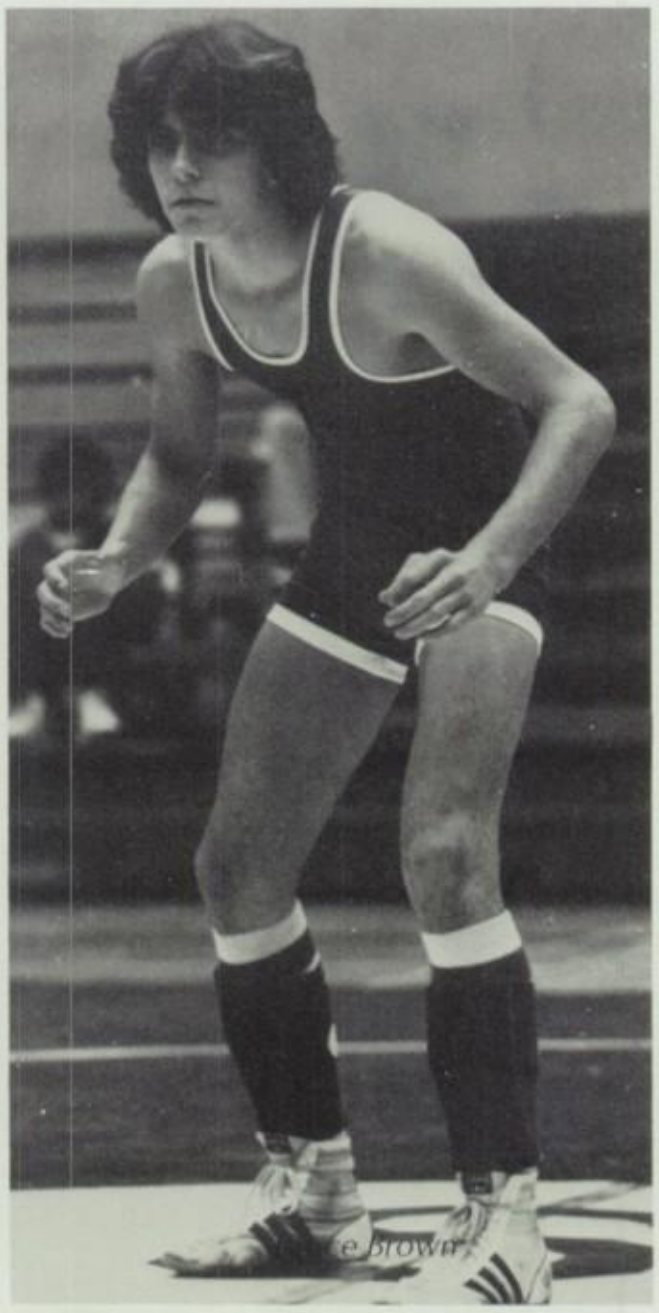
Metro champ, Raul Ramirez



Shon Cochran



e Brown

Varsity Most Valuable Wrestler by his teammates, Kevin captured a second place league finish, his dedication and leadership were inspirational throughout the season and resulted in his being voted Varsity Captain.

The team members were all notable for their hard work, care-free attitudes, good sportsmanship and team spirit. Especially noteworthy was the impressive record of Freshman Louis Demas who was 22-10-1 overall while leading the team in pins (11), takedowns (30), nearfalls (31), and reversals (19).

The J.V. Team was a small but steadfast in its attempts to aid the squad effort. All these members held down a Varsity spot at some point in the season. Alonzo Pogue was voted J.V. Most Valuable Wrestler while Lance Brown was voted J.V. Team Captain.

Varsity Team Shows Vast Improvement

The 1979-80 Sacramento High Women's Varsity Basketball Team completed their season with a respectable 8-6 record. This shows a vast improvement from last season's single victory. The team's competitive and hard working spirit, along with the coaching abilities of Janet Blivens and Derac Krumm, contributed greatly to this season's success which place the team fourth in the Metro League.

With returning starters Rozalen Dehoney, Eveline Johnson, Teresa Baldwin and Lizzie Wright the team has high hopes of a more victorious and rewarding season next year.

Experience Gained By Young Dragons

The JV Basketball team strove for a successful season, but their efforts were not realized.

Their "try harder" effort gave the Junior Dragons a taste of the struggles to come. Their enthusiasm and participation on and off the court made them a stronger team.

Michelle Pickens was an outstanding player and a great help to the team. Others that sparked excitement were Juanetta Dawson, Jenny Fong, Alison Hunter, Ling Kwong, Kelly Mitchell, Tanya Morning, Kim Oglesby, Tammy Pickens, Robin White, and Tina Agee.

Freshmen Finally Get Going

Although it took them until the latter part of the season, the Freshmen Dragons were finally able to play up to their potential. Getting off to a slow start, the Dragons were unable to pose any kind of threat in their league. The last half of the season, however, saw their constant improvement as they finally began to work as a team.

More importantly than winning, the players were explosed to Sac's brand of fast-paced basketball. The experience and knowledge acquired this season will ultimately culminate their talents for when they make the Varsity squad. A few already appear destined to become Sac's future basketball stars.

Sophomores Provide Exciting Season

The sophomore cagers put together a fine season which their record fails to indicate. They completed their action-packed season with a 6-6 league record and 11-14, overall. Led by captain Tim Mar, the JV crew provided many exciting moments such as the win over Cordova. Even in losing, the Dragons still looked impressive. As the Grant Pacers pulled away, seemingly headed for an easy victory, the Dragons put together a final flurry behind the shooting of David Parsh which almost caught the tough Pacers.

Well-balanced, the JV team had more than one outstanding player. Contributing greatly to the squad were Tim Mar (10.8 points average per game, 128 rebounds), and David Parsh (64% free throw percentage, 45 steals, 8.4 point average per game). Most Improved Player Mark Neves had 166 rebounds, 35 steals and a 7.63 points per game average, and MVP Kenny Hunter had an astounding season with 59 steals, an average of 7.76 rebounds and 9.72 points per game average. To add to their honors, Kenny Hunter and Mark Neves were named to the All-League Team.

Varsity Dragons Provide Action-Packed Season

Overcoming a drastic lack of height, the Varsity hoopsters completed one of its best seasons in years. The team enjoyed being ranked for much of the season, and at one point was rated as high as sixth in the area. Sporting an effective full court press throughout the season, the Dragons were able to baffle the opponents into committing numerous turnovers. The team was regarded as being one of the best coached, most disciplined squads in the area.

The season started promisingly with a 68-36 trouncing of the Lodi Flames. In perhaps the most unusual game of the season, the awesome Cordova Lancers found themselves at the mercy of the Dragons. Sac staged an unnerving stall which saw the two teams standing in place watching the minutes tick off. After disappointing losses to Burbank and celler-dwelling McClatchy, Coach Manuel Tequida promised his team would finish out the season in the flashy fashion they started it. After trailing the Kennedy Cougars in the first half, the Dragons vaulted into the lead behind the outside shooting of Orlando Blackwell. After battling down to the final second, Sac lost the game on the official's ruling that Craig Hobson's apparent game-winning shot came after the buzzer. Keeping his promise, Coach Tequida guided his team to a masterful annihilation of Christian Brothers. (continued on page 113)

Although the squad was noted mainly for its teamwork, stars emerged as the season wore on. There were many instances when an individual carried the team while the other players were in a slump.

Orlando Blackwell controlled the Dragons both on and off the court. Regarded as one of the best guards ever to attend Sac High, Blackwell averaged 15.3 points and was an excellent ball handler. On defense he was a constant threat to opposing guards with his quick hands. Being named to the Union's Honorable Mention team was just another accomplishment in his fabulous year.

The team also depended on the valuable performance of Robert Lantz and Craig Hobson. Lantz, a strong forward, was an excellent physical basketball player. He hauled down 9.3 rebounds per game and shot an amazing 52%. Craig Hobson provided an offensive alternative when opponents keyed on Blackwell. The 5'8" guard scored 22 points in a game versus Kennedy proving he also was an offensive threat.

The team finished with a 15-12 overall record and placed fourth in the extremely tough Metro League with a 6-6 league record. Starting Juniors Nate Doss and Marvin Crump appear destined to take over the starring roles when they return to the Dragon line-up next season.

Swim Team Lacks Quantity

Our Dragon Swim Team may be lacking quantity, but not quality. This year's team is being coached by Mr. Derac Krumm and a former Sac High swimmer Robert Lehe. March 21st is the first scheduled meet at Ponderosa High in Placerville. Finally ending the season is the Metro Championships at Johnson High, May 3rd.

Soccer Introduced As New Women's Sport

The Sac Hi first women's soccer team began training early in February for their season. The team anxiously awaited what looks to be a victorious year. Their first game was played on March 6, against La Sierra. The outcome of the game was successfull as the Dragons overtook their opponent 5-0.

The Dragons have worked hard and enthusiastically and Coaches Rachel Wallin and Galen Grow expect a winning season. They are a young, up, and coming team. Big performances are expected from Lupe Ramirez, Carol Nolan, Caroline Adams and Kim Singer, all excellent ball handlers who have experienced running ability. They also have a dynamite goalkeeper Kelly Gormley.

Tennis Team Trains Hard

Coached by Carl Boyer, this year's Men's Tennis Team looks promising. With two wins agains Encina and River City, and no losses yet in the pre-season, Coach Boyer is looking forward to league play.

According to Boyer, the teams to watch for are Kennedy and Christian Brothers. The Dragon team is practicing eye-hand coordination and running for stamina to prepare to beat the two teams.

On the team Tracy Bennett is considered Sac's best threat in the single's division. Kerry Kriske, Kimme Ng, Gilbert Wong, and Steve Nast are also highly praised by Coach.

Softball Team Faster, Stronger And Further

A world of hours of workout against the clock and against themselves prepares the softball team for competition events. With a blur of action bats are swung and hopeful homeruns are hit. "Faster, stronger and further" is the teams motto for working towards a very fine softball season.

Enthusiastic For The Years To Come

The Freshmen Baseball Team is the proving ground for the Varsity Players of tomorrow. They on the Freshmen level are not as concerned with wins and losses as they are with fundamentals, discipline, and team work.

This year's team is composed of a fine group of talented athletes. The success they enjoyed was the result of hard work on the part of all the team members and coaches. They were blessed with good pitching, excellent defense, and good hitting.

The future success of Sac High Baseball is bright for it is in the capable hands of an outstanding freshmen group.

High Fliers Throughout The Season

This year the JV Baseball Team will, with a little luck, win the Metro Championship. Derek Lee, Mark Neves, Steve Ashley, and Vince Cook will be the work horses of the pitching staff. Defensively, the team will be tough up the middle with Kevin Cochran behind the plate, David Parsh at short, Greg Sanfilippo at second, and Steve Dangerfield in centerfield. Vince Cook, Ward Johnson, Derek Lee, and Mark Neves will provide punch at the plate. Walter Ross and Mark Duffin figure to be the stoppers from the bullpen. Roman Wagner, Mark Ogihara, and Mike Mehan will shore up the defense and Chris Bonton, Elder Bentley and Eric Love will get some key hits. Kevin Carter, the assistant coach, is also doing a great job.

A Joint Effort in Action . . .

Orlando Blackwell, the team captain and two-time MVP, provides the varsity baseball team this year with leadership and experience. Coming back from last year's team are Robert Lantz, Derrick Vanacore, Eric Wagner, Tony Dangerfield, Gilbert Saenz, and Brad Z'berg. The strength of this year's team is overall team speed. Keith Williamson (9.7 sprinter) along with Andrew Thornton, Orlando Blackwell, Nate Doss, and Lenny Ortiz provide the team with excellent speed. The pitching will be divided up among Derek Vanacore, Orlando Blackwell, Bill Clayborne, Derrick Roney, Vinnie Winkler, and Nate Doss. The outcome of this year's season will depend upon their playing up to their potential. They feel very optimistic of their chance this coming year. With a very tough schedule nobody will dominate the league. The coach feels the Baseball program at Sacramento High is on the up swing with a bright future. He would like to have the support of the Student Body and Administration to continue this trend.

Wack it good, Keith!

Golf Team Swings Into Action

Members of the 1980 Golf team are Freshmen Toby French, Richard Wibberly, and Steve Miller; Sophomores Tim Mar and Greg Orris; and Juniors Steve Sinay and Mark Hellmer. The top prospects for this year's team are returning lettermen Tim Mar and Steve Sinay, both of whom have the potential to be among the better players in the Metro League. Overall, however, the team lacks depth and experience and will probably finish toward the bottom of the Metro League. The team is coached by Richard Miller.

Distance Runners Dominate Team

This year's track team overcame many obstacles to repeatedly turn in outstanding peformances. Led by Seniors Thomas Cowling and Greg Gorman the team earned the respect of all of its opponents. The Track team was not blessed with an abundance of sprinters as it has been in the past. The void was filled by the distance squad, led by Gorman, Darius Daniels and David Hayes.

Robert Harrison, Ricky Beverly and Jesse Session, along with Cowling made several strong showings in the open 440 yd run.

Next years team is expected to be exceptionally strong, according to Coaches Tommy Allen (Head Coach) and Joe Silva (asst.), due to the returning Juniors and the upcoming Sophomores.

Faculty Gets Involved

The faculty is a very important part of our school. They are the base of the student's learning. Many of the staff devote time and effort in extra curricular activities and guidance. They started their participation this fall by designing their first winning Homecoming float.

With their busy schedule they are still able to find time in volunteering their help in activities. Many of the staff sponsor clubs, classes and student body functions. In addition they found time to present the new decade with a Faculty Variety Show, a basketball game against the Media All-Stars, and various sketches during student rallies.

We owe may of our dedicated staff a debt of gratitude for the time and effort they have devoted to make our Sac High family memorable.

LEARN

After you learn, Do you know what to do?
Develop that knowledge so it can help you.

Use what you learn and you will find,
That you will never be left behind.

Use your brain and learn what you can,
As you become something grand.

If you learn and use it well,
You will realize that life is swell.

You can learn from the old and from the young.
You can secure knowledge from any one,

But please! Don't keep all this knowledge to yourself,
Share what you have learned with someone else.

Principal's Message To The Graduating Class Of '80

Dear Class of 1980:

It is with great pleasure and sadness that I write this message which will probably be my final message to students at Sacramento High School. It was just over a decade ago that I became the Principal. It has been truly a rewarding experience for me. I can say, truly, that I do not regret any of the hours that I have spent working with students, teachers, administrative staff, parents, and community of Sacramento High School.

When I came to Sacramento High School in 1970 I set three goals for myself. 1) To try to stop all of the fighting among races that were going on at the time; 2) I had hoped to restore Sacramento High School to its original place of prominence in the community as a very fine educational institution; 3) I wanted to be a part of building a brand new high school that would serve the community as well as the previous Sacramento High School. I think as you look around you will see that in ten years I was able to achieve those goals and that achievement was not mine alone. It was through the efforts of many students, a very fine teaching staff, a very supportive administrative staff and community all four of whom had the patience to tolerate my administrative leadership over the years. The following quotes, I feel, are reflective of what Sacramento High School is all about for its students, its staff and its community:

. "I feel the capacity to care is the thing which gives life its deepest significance". . .

Pablo Casals

. . . "It isn't half as important to know as to feel . . ."

Rachel Carson

I would like to name a few of the students who this year are part of a very special class because they represent the first class of ninth graders to matriculate and graduate from Sacramento High School. Those class leaders, just to name a few, are as follows: Bill Drobny, Jill Hanna, Kelly Davis, Michael Carter, Laverne Simmons, Debbie Dixon, Jesse Session, Tom Cowling, Liane Watanabe, Brian Plumb, Norma Nava, Kirsten Geer, Greg Saunders, Lauren McGuire , Clara Pettitt, Susan Nishimoto, Herlinda Hernandez, Eileen Kemp, Jean Fong, Janice Briones, Greg Gorman, Maelene Jow, Paula Kidd, Diana Lee, Corey Moffatt, Leslie Roper, Mary Tam, Jill Zornes, Garry Wong, Jennifer Small, Lisa Fong, Kim Mar, Jenny Kwan, Greg Lyall, Mike DiRe, Diane Simrak, Michael Murphy, Tom Pugh. And, of course, there are many more that are in the class of '80 and who are past graduates and who will be future graduates who have helped influence my thinking and education during my matriculation at Sacramento High School.

I feel that Sacramento High School is truly the best high school in this country. Not only has it prepared students to go on beyond secondary education in terms of scoring well on the S.A.T. test for colleges and universities; but, I think more importantly Sacramento High School has prepared its students for the R.L.T. (real life test). I will always remember my experiences at Sacramento High School as innovative, friendly, and exciting. And, the memories I will take with me for the rest of my life. Good luck to the class of '80 and thank you for allowing me to be a part of the Sacramento High School family.

Sincerely,

Adolphus S. McGee
Prinicpal

President's Message

The Senior Class officers are much indebted to those Seniors who contributed to the success of the class of 1980. Our class, which was the first four-year class to ever graduate from Sacramento High School, demonstrated great spirit and leadership abilities as well as determination to make things work.

Our many successes will be goals for all future graduating classes to follow. I hope that the pride and spirit of the class of '80 will long be remembered at Sacramento High School.

Class Of '80 Is #1!

Most classes' spirit and energy seem to decline sharply in their Senior year, but the Class of '80 was an exception to the rule. Despite losing many Seniors to off campus programs and mid-term graduation, the class has remained a dominant force on the Sac High campus.

The Class of 1980 takes a special place in the long history of Sacramento High School, as they are the first class to enter as freshmen and attend Sac for four years. They entered with a new pride in school spirit and showed this fact by winning their first S-A-C spellout. From that time on, the Class of '80 proved to be unbeatable as they won competition after competition. The unity of the class over the past four years helped to promote a new spirit that the other classes have used as an example to follow.

Senior involvement can be seen everywehere. Clubs, team sports, and other campus organizations were filled with Seniors. Despite the evident involvement, the Senior Class itself has some trouble finding members willing to work. Nevertheless, guided by President Jill Hanna, the Senior Class planned a Senior Ball distinct from that of any other in Sac High History. On April 19th, the Senior Ball was held on the Harbor Emperor which cruised down the Sacramento River. Bids for the special event went on sale for $30 a couple.

Spirit, involvement, and uniqueness justify the Seniors' claim that "The Class of '80 is number one!"

Wee Dwagons

We, the wittle Grads of 1980,
came about in the 1960's.
We came here as freshmen and became the number one classmen.
Through all the thick and thin,
the class of '80 always wins.
Now the time has come to say goodbye,
we walk down the commencement aisle and give a sigh.
The years went by fast,
but we'll always remember the past,
as the Sac High's class of 1980.

Outstanding Seniors Awarded Scholarships

To reach a goal is the ultimate achievement and to achieve the ultimate is self pride. Pride and achievement are two characteristics prevalent among all of Sac High's scholarship winners.

The Bank of America award is one of the most prestigous scholarships in the nation. Only the most outstanding students in general fields and specific subjects are chosen. The process of selection is one that is long and difficult. The process begins with teachers nominating students who they feel have excelled in a certain subject or subjects. Following the nominations, certain students are placed into their respective general fields. The students are then screened by the selection committee composed of teachers, counselors, and an administrator. Finally, the best students in each general field (Math and Science, Vocational Arts, Fine Arts, and Liberal Arts) are chosen to represent the school in further competitions. The winners in the specific subjects are awarded certificates and the winners in the general fields are awarded a plaque.

The Soroptomist award is a local scholarship sponsored by the Soroptomist International of Sacramento. This year, Sac High produced winners who captured all four possible awards. To win this award, a clear sense of one's goal(s) is needed.

The Gemco award is another one of the most distinguished honors. Winners are chosen through a process of group discussions. Only one person is selected to represent each high school.

To win a scholarship is truly an achievement and one can't help but feel proud.

President's Message

As President of the Junior Class, I would like to give my sincere thanks to all members of the Class of '81 who helped with, or participated in fund raisers and other class functions. I would also like to bring to attention the work and time that was put in by the officers who are the backbone of the Class of '81. They keep our number one class going.

I would also like to display the fact that the help of each individual member is needed. Their time and impact will decide whether or not our Senior year will be the best year ever. Class officers cannot be expected to take over all the responsibilities. They can only do so much. Get involved, support the Class of '81!

Juniors Sponsor Imaginative Fundraisers

The Junior Class managed to participate in the various class competitions, but as far as total class participation, spirit was low. Juniors took second place at Homecoming for their float, and their hall was selected third in the Christmas hall decorating competition. The class officers and an interested few worked to raise money for the Junior Prom. They sold scarves, candy, mugs and also sponsored a Donkey Basketball game.

The Class of '81 came through with originality when they introduced an International Dinner as one of their major fundraiser. Purchasers of tickets to the event were treated to dishes from countries such as Mexico, China, and Greece. Live entertainment was also provided including a solo by President Teresa Baldwin.

Junior Prom, the major event of the year, was a great success. The occasion was held at the Eastern Star Temple, February 9th from 9 to 1. They selected Moonlight Memories as their theme and midnight blue and silver as their colors. Music was provided by the band Arrival. Early planning resulted in a memorable evening for the hundred couples who attended.

Hundred Couples Attend Junior Prom

The officers fears of Junior Prom apathy were erased Saturday night as a large crowd filled the dance floor for the 1980 Junior Prom. With only forty bids sold a few days before the Prom, the officers worried that their months of preparation may go for naught. On the last two days, however, sales on the $15 bids picked up drastically with the final total amounting to an even one hundred.

February 9, 1980 was the big night. Couples danced to the sounds of the band "Arrival" in the elegance of the Eastern Star Temple. Complementing the romantic atmosphere were the Prom theme, "Moonlight Memories", and the coordinated colors of midnight blue and silver.

During the final hours, excitement filled the air as Junior Class Sponsor Amador Gonzales introduced the candidates for Queen, Teresa Baldwin, Ana Gastelum, Angie Mantis, and Pat Williams; and the candidates for King, David Davis, Arturo Gutierrez, Bryan Mier and Jose Sanchez. Ana Gastelum and Bryan Mier were crowned Queen and King, and they shared a special dance dedicated to the Royalty.

Accompanied by "Arrival", Ana Gastelum made the Prom even more memorable with an electrifying performance of "Boogie Oogie Oogie". The couples slowly filed out at 1 a.m. with their "Moonlight Memories" of Junior Prom '80.

President's Message

The Class of '82 has had a very successful sophomore year. The officers would like to thank all of those who helped in our many fundraising activities and at our Sophomore Hop. Although we needed more participation in class activities, we still managed to have a good year. We hope that the class will give next year's officers an even better chance to succeed than we were given. In closing, the Class of '82 promises to have a terrific junior year. Always remember that t he Class of '82 at Sacramento High School is #1 and always will be.

Sophomores Enjoy Successful Homecoming

The Sophomores earned the distinction of ending the Seniors' domination of the S-A-C spell-out competition. It was at the Homecoming Rally that the Sophomores united to dethrone the Seniors as the spell-out yelling champs. Their Homecoming Royalty were driven around in a glamorous silver limousine. Homecoming, however, was not a total success for the Sophomores as their dream of producing the prize winning float was drowned by a sprinkler. Led by President Kevin Daniels, the Class of '82 organized a profitable poster selling campaign, sold poms at basketball games, and had a drawing to raise money for their Sophomore Hop in February. Music for the open dance was provided by Disco Inferno. A fog machine, trip lights, strobe lights, and black lights added to the special atmosphere of the memorable night.

President's Message

In the three years ahead of us, we are faced with the challenges of maintaining the Dragon Spirit and upholding the dignity of Sacramento High in the community. Our high school experience is the foundation upon which our future is built. We must cherish these years and make every attempt to gain as much knowledge and understanding as possible. We must accept our challenge with the kind of pride and dignity that has made Sac High what it is today. We are strong; we are proud; we are together; we are tomorrow's leaders. We gladly accept our challenges.

Freshmen Finally Gain A Leader

Because elections were not held until December, the organization of the calls got off to a late start. Competition for offices was fierce during the one week of campaigning. The Class of 1983 finally gained a leader as Angel Stewart was voted Freshmen Class President. Completing the cabinet were Vice President Brian Robinson, Treasurer Teresa Pfitzner, Secretary Laura Madison and Senators Darren Allen, Carleton Gorman and Bob Wright.

Despite the lack of a leader, the class unified to participate in school activities. The Freshmen built a float for Homecoming and during their campaign week, they produced the best hall in the hall-decorating contest between the classes.

Freshmen are often considered the "babies" of the school, too little to provide any competition for the upperclassmen. The class of '83, however, has held up to the Sac High tradtion of strong, spirited Freshmen classes as they made certain that they were heard - strong and clear.

The 1980 Review, prepared by the Review Staff reflects our students creative effort in layout, design and photography. The class is career oriented in preparing, planning and financing the book. A professinal publishing and photography company were selected by yearbook student representatives and the yearbook administrative advisory team to complete the publication.

It is with pride the dedicated staff presents the 1980 Review which in the brief course of one year reflects variety and reality of student existence — the pride of growth — the glory of action — the splendor of achievement. We hope you enjoy this publication for it and it alone reflects the spectrum of our campus life at Sacramento High School.

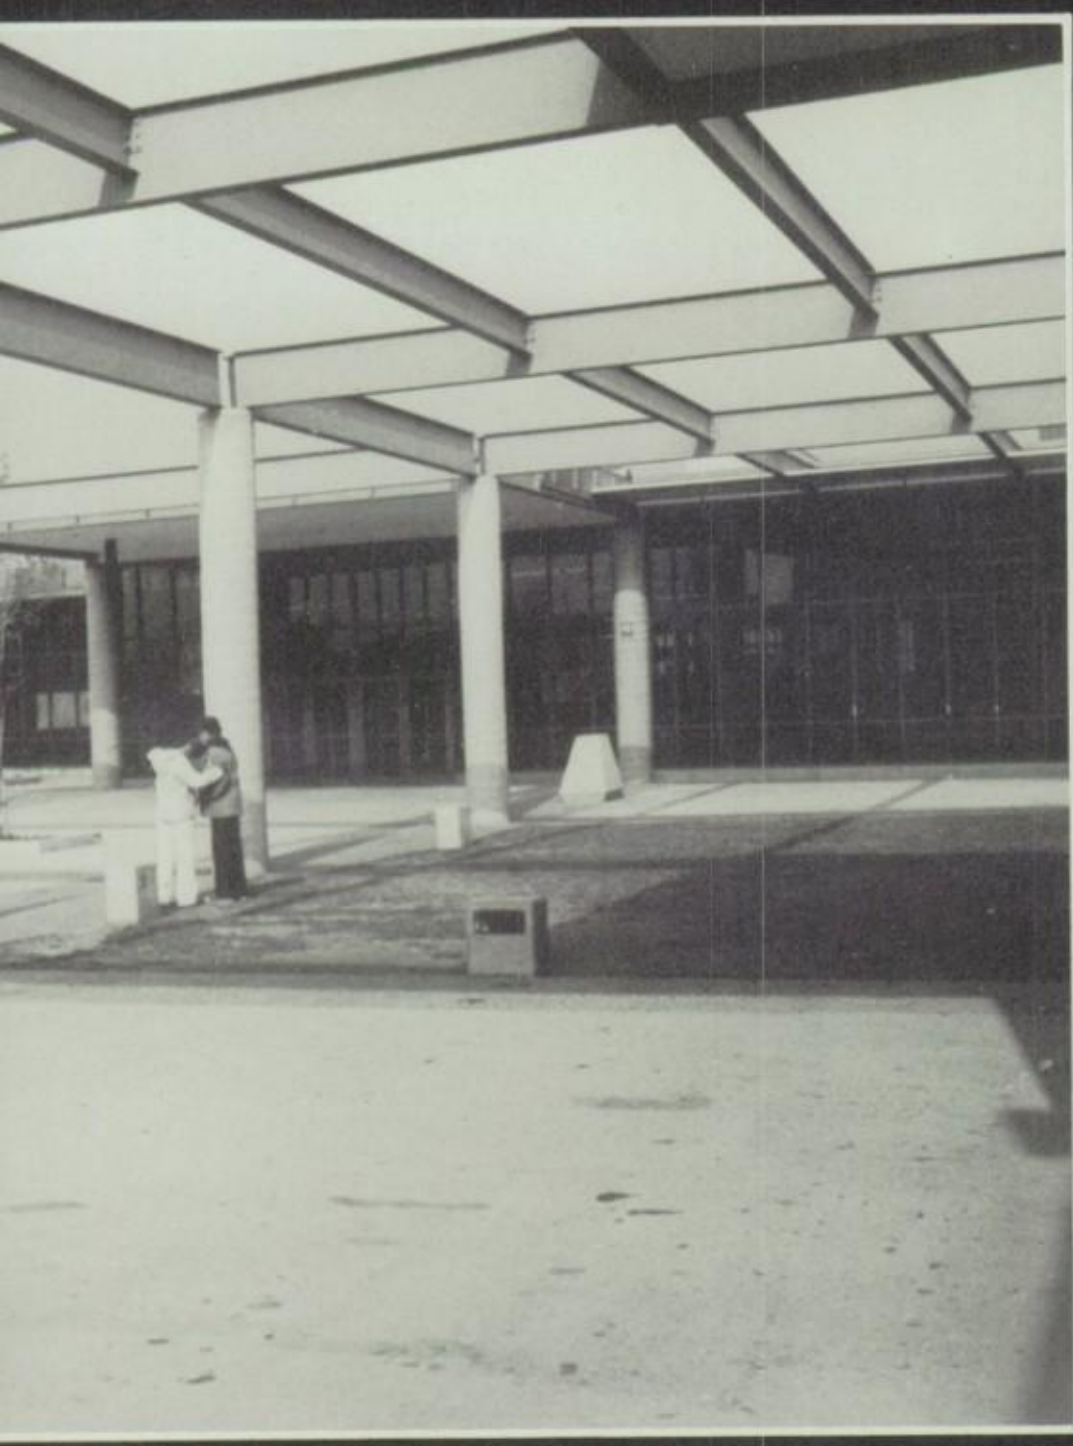
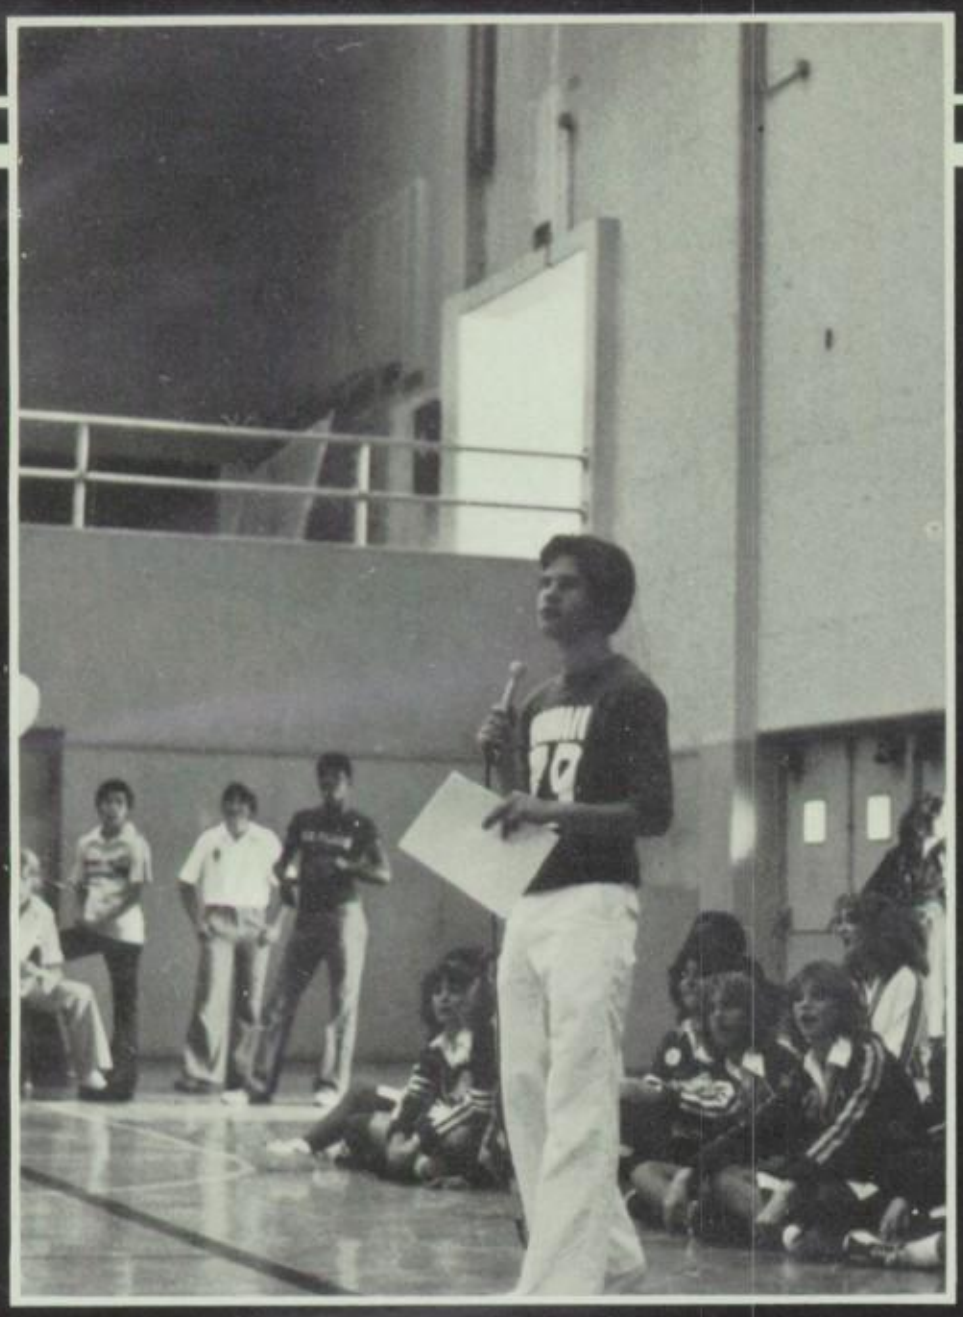
HOME 15 VISITORS
DOWN YDS. TO GO 4 QUARTER



As Sacramento High School bids farewell to the class of 1980, it also says good-bye to a rebuilding period in its history. From the tumultuous early seventies to the fresh new decade, Sacramento High has seen and experienced numerous changes. Most recently, our school has been altered by a new $8 million building, the upsetting cutbacks from Proposition 13, the addition of a Freshmen class, and this year, the change in principals due to Mr. McGee's well earned promotion.

Students, however, are usually more concerned with their day-to-day lives. While looking forward to the future, we also reflect back on all the good times we have had. There were the treasured magical moments when we wished time would stand still. We treasured the special moments from the time we discovered a Homecoming victory was in our grasp, to the time when that teacher you'd thought had it in for you gave you a passing grade, to the time when that special someone finally returned your affection. Ahh, yes, those priceless memories . . .



. . . and forward we go, on to an ever-changing spectrum. The past is a treasury of memories which no one can take away, but then again, we must let go and live for the future. New events and people help us to look forward into our lives whether it is tomorrow, next week, next month, or next year. As we look anxiously toward the future for improvements, we also pray for the continuation of our present success. We hope this year's mistakes will serve as a reminder to help us have a better next year.

In a sense, there is no next year for the Class of 1980. Although close friends many stay together, the unification of those special students to prove their supremecy will be gone forever. For some, graduation means the beginning of college life and for others it means going out into the real world. Whichever path each member chooses to travel, graduation still means the end of the beginning. A very impressionable chapter of their lives has ended, and all that remain are the priceless spectrum of memories of their years at Sacramento High School.

According to Webster's Dictionary, the word "spectrum" refers to "a continuous range or entire extent". This is what we attempted to capture in this 1980 REVIEW — the entire range of Sac's colorful people and events.

Although it is impossible to thank everyone who helped in the production of this yearbook, a few have really deserved to be mentioned. So, first of all, I would like to thank all the great section editors: Arlene Kajita (Classes), who coordinated the Senior Portrait Schedule and then put up with the rescheduling: Diana Lee (Sports), who saw to it that the spring sports were able to make the book in spite of the mass confusion; Mary Tam (Clubs), who actually managed to find enough active clubs; and Jennifer Small (Index), who, by some miracle, has not yet strangled me for volunteering her to alphabetize 1700 names. On behalf of the entire staff, I would like to thank the patient and helpful faculty; our Taylor publishing Representative Mr. Stephenson; Mr. Tafoya; and of course, our ever helping advisor Mrs. Payne. For helping us out of our photography dilemma, we extend our deepest appreciation to non-staff photographers David Doll, Paul Jovalis, James Messa, Jeff Sortomme, and especially Rick Ferreter who we relied on much too often; and our most sincere gratitude goes to Payne & Payne Photographers who provided the service and materials we desperately needed.

The biggest thank you goes to Sac's Student Body itself. We hope we have brought you a yearbook that has captured the Spectrum of Memories from this fabulous high school year.

Thank you,

Susan Nishimoto
